U.S. Seeks Sign Hanoi Means To Slow War

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's decision to release three more U.S. prisoners spurred fresh administration interest today in finding out whether Hanois beginning to de-escalate the war.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and the reported cutback in North Vietnamese infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers suggests these developments may be due to some "change of plans" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility they could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference Wednesday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a new enemy offensive is a definite possibility based on the present, admittedly inadequate information.

Some authorities believe if the developments have political significance they would eventually get some signals to that effect, perhaps through Soviet or other diplomatic channels, from Hanoi.

One way for the United States to probe what is happening — apart from watching developments, is to ask North Vietnamese peace negotiators in Paris. Rogers said this would be done "when the right time comes . . . we do not attach too much significance to it at this time."

On the North Vietnamese infiltration level, Rogers said "We are not quite sure what it means except that we know pretty conclusively that there has been a reduction in the infiltration in the last two months."

At the Defense Department, however, military authorities tended to discount the significance of the reported drop. They said the total of North Vietnamese forces moving through the jungle trails normally varies from month to month.

Noting that figures of the enemy troop flow are gathered slowly from various sources, including prisoners, one officer commented that when more complete information on infiltration is available "we are not sure that it will drop off."

The military informants said they estimated movement of enemy troops into South Vietnam during the first half of the year averaged 8,000 to 10,000 men a month. They said North Vietnam's aim apparently has been to maintain about 100,000 fighting men in the South by constantly replacing casualties.

Rogers expressed hope this constituted a deliberate response by North Vietnam to President Nixon's June 8 announcement of the withdrawal of 25,000 American troops by the end of August.

Nixon intends to make a new decision during August on whether he can further reduce U.S. forces.

He has said his decision, like the one in June, will be based on South Vietnam's ability to replace American soldiers on developments in the Paris peace talks and on the level of enemy activity in the field.

North Viet Says It Will Free 3 GIs

Will Allow Other POWs To Get Gifts From Kin July 4

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it will release three American prisoners of war and allow other American POWs to receive gifts from their families in observance of Independence Day.

Brief broadcasts by Radio Hanoi monitored in Tokyo and Hong Kong did not specifically say the prisoners would be released July 4. They also did not say where the men would be freed, nor were they identified.

But Tokyo monitors said Radio Hanoi spoke of "Americans captured in North Vietnam," indicating they were U.S. pilots who had been shot down.

North Vietnam last freed three U.S. pilots Aug. 2 in Vientiane, Laos. In the past North Vietnam has allowed American POWs to receive gifts on special holidays like Christmas.

The announcement came as U.S. miitary men were puzzling over one of the lowest levels of fighting in the war and trying to determine just how many North Vietnamese had infiltrated into South Vietnam or withdrawn

American officers said three North Vietnamese regiments, the 36th, 138th and 27th, have pulled back across the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone into North Vietnam. But they said the Communist Command still has three regiments in the northern portion of South Vietnam, and speculated the pullback, may simply mean new regiments will replace them.

Four enemy regiments also have pulled back from the Central Highlands around Ben Het, perhaps to get replacements after the recent battle there, the officers said.

TRICIA NIXON, 23, daughter of President and Mrs. Richard Nixon, laughs during her press conference Wednesday in London, following a suggestion from a reporter present that she might be a suitable wife for the Prince of Wales. The reporter's comment came after Tricia said she thought that Prince Charles would be a fine King of England. (UPI Cablephoto)

Cigarette Levy Boost In Measure

$1.8 Billion Eyed Under Program In Next Two Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The administration's proposed $1.86 billion education program, partially financed by an increased tax on cigarettes, headed for a floor vote today in the Ohio House.

The education - tax bill provides financing for programs from kindergarten through college over the next two years.

In addition it provides $416 million for capital improvements and authorizes the issuing of $192 million in revenue bonds for educational facilities.

The bill levies three new state taxes that would bring in $132 million over the biemium to help finance the programs.

The tax on a package of cigarettes would be raised from seven to nine cents to provide $52 million; the public utility excise tax would be increased from 3 to 4 per cent to bring in 140 million and the four - mill corporate franchise tax would be increased by one mill to bring in $40 million.

Elementary and secondary education is alloted $1.3 billion. The money includes operating funds for the school foundation, transportation, vocational education, programs for the disadvantages, aid to nonpublic schools, bus purchase, special education and driver education.

In addition, there would be $75 million to assist local school district in building vocation education facilities.

The 11 state universities and the one state-assisted university would receive $447 million in operating funds and $316 million for capital improvements.

The remaining money would go primarily to the Board of Regents, revenue bond financing and the contingency fund.

The bill also allows counties

Sen. Byrd Raises Issue

McGovern Cited In Talk With Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern's secret meeting with top Communist negotiators has come under attack from a fellow Democrat who questioned whether it is in the nation's interest "to meet with the enemy in time of war."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia raised the issue after McGovern, long a critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam, disclosed he had met for 10 hours May 23 in Paris with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong representatives.

Answering questions about the propriety of the meeting, McGovern said: "These same considerations went through my mind for many, many months." But he said he decided to go ahead with the meeting after conferring with the State Department and chief U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

"I wouldn't be able to rest if I thought anything I'd done had cost the life of a single American boy or prolonged the war," the South Dakota Democrat said in defending his action.

McGovern told of the secret meeting Wednesday in a Senate speech, and he elaborated in a press briefing and a series of exchanges with fellow senators during and after his formal talk.

He said he arranged the session to get a better understanding of why the war and the killing goes on. The senator emphasized he only asked questions and made clear to the representatives of North Vietnam and the Viet Cong he was not speaking in behalf of the U.S. government.

Byrd, said if Lodge approved the session, he assumed other senators might also arrange such meetings.

"Are we going to attempt to have individual negotiations with representatives of the enemy in Paris" Byrd asked.

Thieves Get Pills, Liquor In Enterings

Tranquilizers and whisky were stolen in separate East Liverpol area burglaries investigated by sheriff's deputies Wednesday and early today.

They said burglars stole $275 and 1,500 tranquilizer pills last night at the Thrift Drugstore in St. Clair Plaza.

An undetermined amount of cash and a quantity of whisky and beer were stolen sometime yesterday from American Legion Post 736 in Glenmoor.

Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman found a broken door glass at the drugstore at 4:34 a.m. and notified James Moss, the manager, who determined the loss. He said the pills were valued at $130.

The Legion post burglary was reported at 1:44 p.m. yesterday by John Prokop. He said the break-in occurred after 1 a.m. yesterday.

Deputy Kent Garvey said entry was made through a basement door and by forcing a door into the main room upstairs. The intruders pried the money boxes of a cigarette machine, pinball game, bumper pool game and jukebox. They left by a storage room door.

Independence Day Observances Set

Thousands Gird For '4th'; 20,000 Waited At Midland

Thousands of tri - state area residents are getting ready to head for the parks, the pools, other recreation spots — and Midland — in observance of the Fourth of July holiday tomorrow.

Others will spend the day quietly at home.

THE WEATHERMAN says there is a possibility some rain may fall tonight and Friday. The forecast calls for partly cloudy, with tonight's low ranging between 57 and 63 and tomorrow's high between 78 and 84.

Business on a municipal, state and federal level will come to a virtual halt as various offices observe the holiday.

The customary fireworks display at Rock Springs Park is not planned this year, according to Robert Hand, park manager, because of the closing of the Chester Bridge. Amusement rides will be in operation at the park Friday starting at 1 p.m.

A fireworks display is scheduled at St. Clair Plaza by Hills Department Store at 10 p.m., store officials announced.

At Weirton, a parade will begin at 10 a.m. Among those participating will be U.S. Rep. Robert Mollohan and Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia.

At East Palestine, a parade is planned by the Jaycees at 2 p.m. The annual fireworks display will be staged at the City Park about 9:45 p.m.

From flag raising to fireworks, the Midland July Fourth committee has planned a full day's entertainment for residents of the tri-state area.

The schedule includes:

9 a.m. — Flag raising at the new gymnasium by Midland High School Band and American Legion Posts 481 and 533.

10 a.m. — Formation of parade at First St. playground.

11 a.m. — Start of parade.

12:45 p.m. — Concert at Lin-

Automated Paving Facility

Asphalt Firm Will Build $600,000 Industry Plant

Construction has been launched by a Pennsylvania asphalt firm on a $600,000 plant in Industry borough.

The Interstate Amiesite Corp. is building the plant, its 23rd, on a 6.3-acre site along Route 68 between the Penn Central Railroad and Ohio River. It adjoins the Shell Oil Co. plant at Industry.

The firm said this will be the first automated asphalt paving plant in Beaver County.

THE FIRM credited interest by the Peoples Natural Gas Co. as a major reason for the plant locating at Industry.

William Roorback, district manager of Interstate, said, "Industrial site data and assistance provided by Peoples was the overriding influence in selecting Industry borough for our new plant."

Plans also call for construction of a river dock. Interstate filed with the Pittsburgh District Corps of Engineers for permission and the Pitmarine Corp. later filed a revised application on behalf of Interstate. The dock installation will consist of

Soviet Will Launch Moon Probe July 10

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist sources said Wednesday the Soviet Union plans to launch an unmanned moon probe July 10 that will attempt to scoop up a sample of lunar soil and return it to earth.

The experiment, if successful, would precede the American attempt to land two men on the moon by just six days.

Rites Slated To Dedicate Route 7 Park

Dedication of a new roadside park at Routes 7 and 213 south of Wellsville is planned July 11.

The Wellsville Chamber of Commerce and the Ohio Department of Highways are sponsoring the ceremonies at 2 p.m. at the Yellow Creek facility.

State Sen. Douglas Applegate of Steubenville, State Rep. Arthur Bowers of Jefferson County, Jefferson County commissioners and other officials are expected to attend.

Mayor William Daugherty will represent Wellsville and Wellsville Chamber president Lloyd Rhodes will serve as program chairman.

Columbiana County commissioners and other county authorities are invited to the public event.

The new park features a pavilion shelter, modern plumbing in new rest rooms, a wide area of picnic tables and cooking outlets and paved parking spaces and driveways.

A custodian will supervise the park, which authorities have termed an added attraction for tourists and neighboring communities.

The $184,974 facility was constructed by the Guy Johnson Co. of Steubenville. It includes 10 picnic tables, five grills, parking space for 30 autos and landscaping.

The DOCTOR Says

Avoid Hazards In Scuba Diving

Dr Brandstadt

Water sports have become more sophisticated in recent years. Skin diving is great fun if you understand and avoid the hazards. Although some skin divers use no special equipment, they can attain greater depth and stay under water longer if they use a snorkel or a Self - Contained Underwater Breathing Apparatus (scuba).

Prerequisites are above average skill as a surface diver and long - distance swimmer and a preliminary course of training. Use only the best equipment and check it before each dive. Always use the buddy system and have a boat to return to. Be able at all times to get back to your boat fast.

Keep track of your depth and how long you have been under water. Observe the rules for gradual decompression to avoid the bends. Plan your dives in advance, including appropriate actions if an emergency should arise.

You should learn first aid and have the necessary first - aid equipment in your boat. If you are using scuba equipment, you should breathe continually — don't hold your breath. On an emergency ascent exhale all the way to the surface. If you are not using scuba, don't hyperventilate before starting your dive and don't overexert. These are some of the elementary rules that will enable you to enjoy a fascinating hobby for many years to come.

Q — What is erythryomelalgia or Mitchell's disease? Is there any cure for it?

A — This disease, also called erythermalgia, is characterized by burning pains in the extremities, especially the feet. The affected parts are red and feel hot. Since there is no specific treatment, aspirin by mouth and cold compresses are used to relieve the symptoms.

Q — What are Equagesic and Diuril given for? Have they any undesirable side effects?

A — Equagesic is a combination of a tranquilizer and two pain killers. In too large a dosage it may cause nausea, drowsiness, dizziness and an itching rash. Diuril is given to combat waterlogging and high blood pressure. It should not be taken by anyone with decreased kidney function or anemia.

Could Dominate Shipping Lanes

Soviet Seeks Permission For Naval Base In India

WASHINGTON (AP) — An authoritative Asian diplomatic source says the Soviet Union has asked India for permission to establish a naval base which could dominate shipping lanes to all of East Asia and the western Pacific.

So far, the source reported, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India has resisted the request for a Soviet fleet base in the Andaman Islands, astride the Bay of Bengal.

The source did not say how extensive a military base the Soviets are proposing for the islands, which were seized by the Japanese early in World War II because of their location.

An Andaman base could play a key role in Moscow's newly proposed collective security system for the containment of mainland China. Soviet diplomats were said to have emphasized in their proposal to India.

The Asian security arrangement was first mentioned publicly June 8 by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party first secretary, in his opening address to a world Communist conference in Moscow.

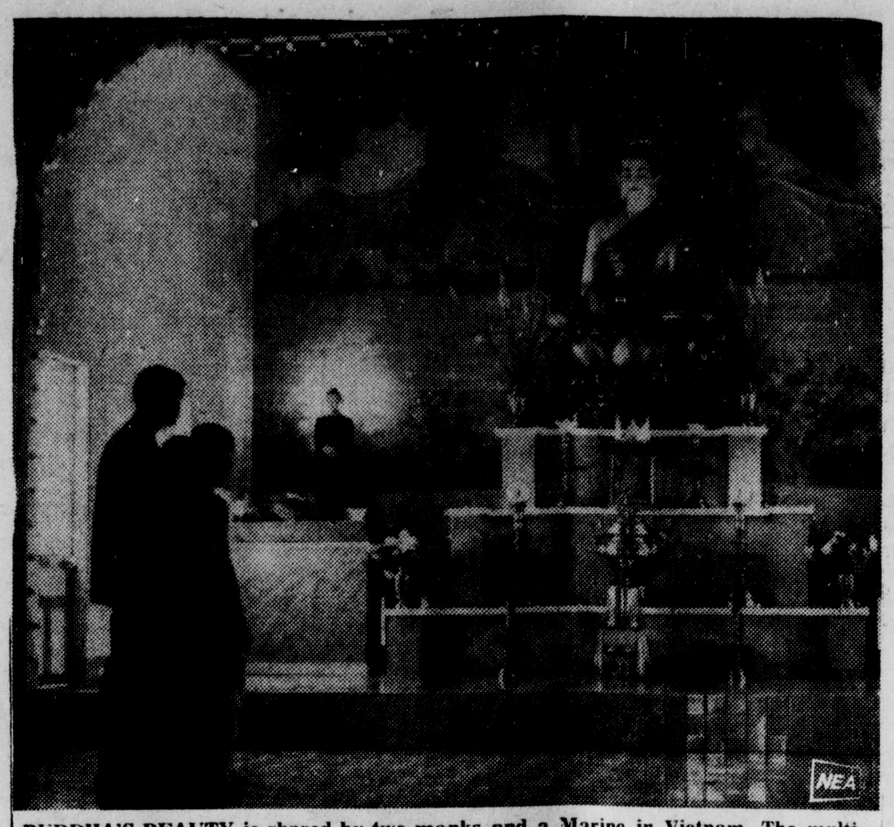

The Soviet proposal has aroused great curiosity here and in other world capitals ever since. Secretary of State William P. Rogers told newsmen Wednesday the United States has inquired about the Soviet plan from Russian diplomats but "so far they have not given us any assistance."

"They have all said they were not too sure of what he meant . . . And we said we were also interested in any kind of arrangements that added to the security and peace in the world," Rogers added.

A spokesman for the State Department said later there was no way to check out the Andaman report here. He cautioned against citing it as a factor in President Nixon's forthcoming visits to Indonesia, India and Pakistan.

During his trip, Nixon is expected to assure these nations of U.S. interest in providing an underpinning through any non-Communist South Asian security system that might evolve. The British withdrawal from positions east of Suez and the U.S. determination to shrink its military presence in Southeast Asia turned some Asian eyes toward Moscow as security against Chinese expansion.

The Soviet Union also has moved toward establishing a naval presence in the Persian Gulf. The United States has responded by encouraging local authorities in Iran, Kuwait and the trucial shiekdoms to fill the vacuum left by the British withdrawal themselves, with U.S. support in the background.

'Not Running,' Chamberlin Says Of School Board

LISBON — Allan G. Chamberlin of Leetonia RD 2 today announced he will not run for re-election to the Columbiana County board of education Nov. 4.

Chamberlin resides in the Fairfield - Waterford School District and is completing his second four-year term. He has served as vice president and president. He said he has too many other responsibilities.

He is organizational director of the Mahoning County Farm Bureau at Canfield and will seek re-election in November to a second term as Fairfield Township trustee.

Chamberlin is president of the Columbiana County Trustees and Clerks Association and represents the organization on the new council of government.

He is the second of the three school board members whose terms expire this year to decide against another term.

Olan Sanor of East Rochester RD, a county board member since 1958, announced last month he will not run again. A West Township farmer, he resides in United School District.

Donald Elliott, Rogers attorney and a board member 12 years, has not announced his intentions. He lives in the Beaver Local District.

The filing deadline is Aug. 6.

The other members of the board are Donald Rupert of New Waterford, president, and Mrs. Freeman Strabley of Salineville. He is from the Fairfield-Waterford District and she from Southern.

St. Clair Mishap Damages 2 Cars

Two cars were damaged in a mishap Wednesday at 4:38 p.m. on St. Clair Ave. at E. 6th St., police reported.

The collision involved a 1966 sedan driven by Roger L. Shook, 22, of 359½ Garfield St. and a 1965 sedan operated by Imlah D. Scott, 64, of 1306 Hillcrest Rd., Wellsville. Both were northbound. Each driver blamed the other for the collision, officers said.

Meanwhile, Ray D. Copenhaver of 314½ Monroe St. told police he left front door of his 1967 model convertible was damaged when struck by a hit-skip car while parked on a lot at Hoffman's Sohio Station at St. Clair Ave. and Broadway between 10 p.m. Wednesday and 1 a.m. today.

Coal Miner Claimed After Sting By Bee

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A 42-year-old coal miner who was clearing brush near a substation died Wednesday after he was stung by a bee.

Workers said Frank Peck, of Brownsville, screamed that a bee stung him and then collapsed. He was declared dead on arrival at Waynesburg Hospital. Peck was working for Jones & Laughlin Steel Co. at a site near Carmichaels.

An autopsy was schedued for today.

Fines Assessed In Traffic Case

LISBON — George K. House, 28, of Lisbon, charged with no valid operator's license and failure to report an accident, was fined $25 and $15 and costs, respectively, Tuesday night by Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

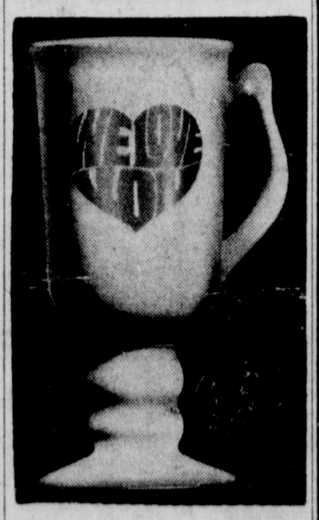

Police cited House Saturday and said he was driving while his license is under suspension. The mayor said House ran into an unused parked car owned by House's neighbor. The defendant agreed to pay for damage to the vehicle.

Mayor Pike referred to Columbiana County Southwest Court a driving "while-under-the-influence-of-alcohol" charge against Ray D. Rudibaugh, 27, of Lisbon RD 3.

Rudibaugh pleaded not guilty Wednesday night and asked for a jury trial. The mayor had him post an additional $50 bond to cover court costs and continued the $300 bond for appearance in the county court.

Marion J. Cholley, 55, of Louisville, cited for passing at an intersection, forfeited a $20 appearance bond.

Independence Day

And the Bell of Freedom Rings

With the Liberty Bell as symbol, the sound of freedom rings anew throughout our land, as we observe Independence Day. On this day, we commemorate the courage and determination of our forefathers, and rededicate ourselves to their principles.

"Let Freedom Ring." This is our prayer and our pledge, the heart and spirit of our American way of life. On July 4th, we celebrate with joy, in a holiday mood of happiness, and with solemnity, in affirmation of the message of freedom.

Rescuing Disadvantaged

The joint efforts of the Department of Labor and the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) to do something constructive to help the disadvantaged of the nation appears to be successful — at least where the Chrysler Corp. is concerned.

Normally, when an assistance program fails to achieve its objectives, it is quickly abandoned. But the recent signing of the largest single government-industry contract ever awarded for the training of disadvantaged persons marked the fourth time since 1967 that Chrysler has participated in a pre-employment training program.

THE $13,795,000 CONTRACT calls for the training and hiring of 4,460 persons in Chrysler plants across the nation during a two-year period, under NAB's Job Opportunities in the Business Sector (JOBS) program.

The statement of Chrysler's president, Virgil E. Boyd, that "the success of our earlier pre-employment programs, in providing not only jobs but dignity and hope where they were previously denied, adds to our confidence in the worth of these cooperative efforts," is especially significant.

For it is extremely doubtful if Chrysler or any other business firm would continue to be a partner in a program which proved unsuccessful — even though the federal government picks up the tab.

One of the contracts is for the training of 150 hard-core individuals from the Watt's section of Los Angeles while two others are designed to provide for training of more than 2,300 persons for manufacturing assembly and auto service jobs in six major cities including Toledo, Dayton and Twinsburg in Ohio.

A heartening statistic relative to the retention of employes who received their training under these contracts is that more than 1,300 of the 1,800 disadvantaged persons trained by Chrysler have remained as permanent employes.

MR. BOYD HAS OBSERVED that "most of the trainees have never been needed before and just knowing they can perform a useful and necessary role becomes a solid base on which they can develop into productive and responsible members of society."

The concept of industry taking in the disadvantaged, training them in needed skills on the job site and then providing employment for them is gaining wider acceptance.

The success of the Chrysler program, in partnership with the government, is most encouraging and deserves emulation.

Kline For Governor?

Personable Ernest Kline, the Beaver Falls radio announcer who worked his way through the legislative mills to become the Democratic floor leader in the Pennsylvania Senate, may be in line for a bid for bigger things.

Kline is being considered by a number of party leaders as a possible opponent of Robert Casey of Scranton who will no doubt be seeking the Democrat nomination for Governor.

Wellknown throughout Beaver County, Kline has shown exceptional ability in the Senate, winning the respect of both sides of the aisle and earning attention across the Commonwealth.

Casey, the new state auditor general, is better known among voters, having stumped the state in 1966 in his unsuccessful race against Milton Shapp for the Democrat gubernatorial nomination.

Kline has proven his leadership quailties and his ballot box appeal, and can be expected to hold an increasingly important role in guiding Pennsylvania's destinies. Whether or not his dark horse potential develops fully in the upcoming elections, Kline has a busy and auspicious future ahead of him.

Time For Wiretap Action

In view of the controversy over the recent disclosure of questionable handling of wiretapping by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it becomes increasingly clear the General Assembly should enact legislation that would head off similar situations in Ohio.

Any such state legislation should, of course, be heavy on the side of protecting individual privacy, and should not permit use of wiretaps, eavesdropping and other bugging procedures to be used willy nilly by police or prosecutors.

EQUALLY AS IMPORTANT, any such legislation should provide penalties for those persons not authorized to overhear the conversations of others — be it by telephone on a deserted streetcorner or in the privacy of the individual's home.

Such legislation is before the Ohio General Assembly. It's been there since Jan. 27 when State Sen. Ralph S. Regula, R-Navarre, introduced a measure which would authorize the use of wiretaps and eavesdropping.

But, wiretapping and eavesdropping authorized under Regula's bill would be closely supervised once permission was granted to bug an individual's phone or home.

Police and prosecutors would have to obtain a warrant from common pleas or municipal courts in order to wiretap.

During testimony early in the session, Sen. Regula said that with the caution judges exercise over issuance of search warrants, there's no reason to believe the jurists would be any more willing to issut a warrant to wiretap unless they are given clear evidence that it's absolutely necessary to resort to such a procedure in order to collect the goods for an indictment.

Additionally, the bill specifically enumerates the crimes in which the use of wiretaps and eavesdropping could be used. These include violent crimes where the threat of bodily harm exists. Organized crime would be included in the grouping subject to investigation by use of wiretapping.

Fully recognizing the rights of defendants, the bill stipulates that transcripts of conversations gathered through wiretapping be made available to accused persons at least 30 days before trials.

Regula's bill, which is backed by the Ohio Crime Commission, would make it a crime to wiretap without court permission. In the absence of any state law now, there is nothing to stop a person from bugging the conversations of anyone he pleases.

IT IS TIME for a subcomittee which has not been studying Regula's bill for several months to report the measure out. The only question at this point is whether they want to authorize the courts to permit police to wiretap.

Given the built-in protection of individual rights, there's no reason this additional tool should not be added to the arsenal of weapons police and the courts can use against crime — particularly organized crime.

The General Assembly should take its cue from the problems the federal government faces when individual privacy and rights are abandoned in the name of national security.

Income Tax Balloon Pops

A permissive income tax at the county level apparently — and fortunately — has gone the way of all its related predecessors — into the Ohio House pigeon hole.

And there will be no weeping or gnashing of teeth over its demise. Among the first to run up a shout of approval are county commissioners, upon whose shoulders would have fallen the burden of imposing the tax.

With all income tax proposals apparently buried for this session of the Ohio Assembly the search is on for other sources of income to finance Gov. Rhodes' $232 million education plan.

Cigarettes, corporate franchises and public utility excises appear to be the most likely targets at the moment, but other possibilities are likely to emerge before final action.

The most popular tax ever conceived, of course, is one that hits the other fellow.

But basically, every tax is paid by the ultimate consumer, so that the sum total of all taxes imposed is a levy in some form on the individual who buys food and products, owns anything, pays rent and contracts for services.

The direct taxes are the ones that hurt most, and there is no more direct tax than on incomes, as every paycheck will confirm.

Politicians are fearful of the direct tax, as well they should be, so it is only logical to expect that sooner or later, after a series of time consuming false starts, they will come up with something palatable, if not completely adequate.

Our position has been and still is clear: The income tax at the local level should be reserved for the cities and should not be a revenue source thrown up for grabs.

Letters To The Editor

Both my wife and I would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to the Tri-State Pottery Festival Association and all others for giving us such an insight into the making of pottery during your recent Pottery Festival. We especially enjoyed the demonstrations at the headquarters and the tours through several of the local potteries.

I am certain that the endeavors of many citizens were required to make this festival a success, and indeed it was one in my opinion.

TB-Clinic Support

To my surprise, I learned a few days ago that purchases of Christmas Seals do not help support the county tuberculosis clinic at Lisbon.

I always have been a faithful purchaser of the seals, thinking that the money helped support the clinic that has done so much to aid me and many others. But I learned through the clinic staff that the operations are entirely tax-supported.

So in the future, when I am able, I will make contributions direct to the county clinic. This is not intended to be detrimental to the sale of Christmas Seals, which help operate the mobile X-ray cruiser. I think this program is a fine service also.

Festival Thanks

The problem: which comes first, the congratulations or the thanks? They are both very sincere.

As a guest at the pottery festival, I was overwhelmed by the excellent displays and exhibits. But I was triply impressed by the kindness of the people.

So, thank you, East Liverpool, for a memorable day.

VICTOR RIESEL

Revolution By Stop Watch

WASHINGTON — This is a tale of one city and two conventions — the national gatherings of the New Left and the Democratic Party. The SDS attended both conclaves — one on the outside with staves and one on the inside with muscle and Maoist malice for all. Time: the present. Place: Chicgao, of course.

Victor Riesel

When all the reports of the SDS 9th National "Convention," replete with gory stories of bodyguarded speakers fistfights, mauling, hauling, howling, pouncing on microphones, cheering for Che Guevara, hysteria for "Ho Ho Ho" were in, I sought out the 42-year-old Congressman John Murphy (N.Y.). He was parliamentarian of the 1968 Democratic National Nominating Convention.

Carefully, from his records and tihe sheets, we reconstructed the procedure at the convention — as it was operated inside the control center while the SDS was outside the Hilton, the convention headquarter' hotel.

Here's the record. Here's what was happening behind the Chicago International Amphitheatre podium while the New Left shouted that Democratic Party leaders were not reflecting the will of the delegates, nor the sentiment of the people nor the sheer essence of democratic procedure.

"I WAS PERSONA NON GRATA with some groups," says Jack Murphy in that crisp, executive fighting-Irish tone of his, "who felt that the convention was too authoritarian and favored one candidate. I'll just recount some instances where the application of the (convention) rules was liberally applied."

Congressman Murphy's record shows that the time consumed in the nomination of candidates for president by the minority more than doubled that spent on Hubert Humphrey.

The nominating speech for Sen. Eugene McCarthy — 40 minutes; Senator George McGovern — 41 minutes; Reverend Channing Philips — 32 minutes; and Vice President Hubert Humphrey — 32 minutes.

"On the night of nomination for Vice President," adds Jack Murphy, "the name of Julian Bond was placed in nomination by Donald Peterson of Wisconsin.

"Bond's name had not been sent to the Secretary of the Convention, nor had Peterson sent his name to the Secretary as reqhired under the rules of the Convention. These rules were made so that some order could be maintained and a program set forth.

"Members from various state delegations came to the platform protesting that Julian Bond did not meet the Constitutional requirements to be Vice President. However, his name still was permitted to remain in contention until Georgia was recognized. At that time Bond withdrew himself as a candidate and mentioned that his age was a limiting factor."

Congressman Murphy extended the time from one to two hours. The minority plank was given half the time. The anti-Vietnam block's time was to be controlled by Rep. Philip Burton (Calif.), its official spokesman.

All of the minority's 60 minutes was consumed by delegates pleading passionately for their cause. I heard no howls. No one attempted to seize the microphone. There was no violence. No delegate had to be accompanied to the podium or mike by gun-carrying bodyguards so characteristic of the SDS "convention" 10 months later. The very thought of such melodramatics at a Democratic (or Republican) convention amused Mr. Murphy.

Then came the turn for the next to the last scheduled aiti-Vietnam speaker, Ted Sorensen, intimtte of the late Jack Kennedy.

"TED SORENSEN took all of the time alloted to Sen. Wayne Morse," asserts Mr. Murphy, "who was to be the concluding speaker. Although the (minority's) full 60 minutes had been used, Morse was not limited in his remarks — although no compensating time was given to the majority plank. The purpose of the loosely applied time requirements such as there was to obviate any criticism that people were cut off from speaking or denied the right to speak. The Convention rules were in order and naturally favored no particular candidate."

Compare this procedure with the chaotis "delegations" at tht SDS sessions in the Coliseum. Compare this with the splits, splinters, expulsions, vitupertions, and disregard for democrattion — and the flooding of the Coliseum by packs of SDS (regulars) and bands of Progressive Labor Party-Workers-Student Alliance orthodox Maoisis brought in by bus and special planes.

Now that the SDS have had their crack at democracy within their own ranks bruitshly as well as amateurishly, they now claim the intelment"?

Corruption In Elections

WASHINGTON — There's a peculiar irony in the statements made recently by persons inside and outside of Congress criticizing the South Vietnamese government for not having prevented corruption in elections.

For htis malpractice unfortunately occurs right here in the United States and it may increase in future year.

There now is before Congress a proposal to end literacy tests throughout the country so that hereafter all persons who can neither read nor write will be permitted to vote. This opens up the way for bribery of voters and the commission of voting frauds.

The present dispute started when Congress passed the Voting Rights Act in 1965, declaring that literacy tests were to be suspended in those states which had such tests and where within the state or political division thereof less than 50 per cent of the people of voting age had voted or were registered to vote in the 1964 election.

THIS SUPPOSEDLY BROAD prohibition actually applied only to seven states in the South. Atty. Mitchell now has proposed that none of the 50 states or political subdivisions thereof "mav require any person to pass a literacy test or other tests or devices as a condition for exercising the fundamental right to vote."

Many of the representatives from northern states are objecting to this but members of Congress from the South have long been saying that it is discrimination to single out the southern states and that any laws of the land should apply everywhere.

As for voting frauds, just after Mr. Nixon was nominated in 1968, a group consisting of 100,000 volunteers was organized by his associates to prevent some of the "irregularities" which occurred in the 1960 presidential election. Louis B. Nichols, a former assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was head of the organization, known as "Operation Integrity."

In an article in Reader's Digest this month. Mr. Nichols says that from time to time in the 1968 primaries in each state poll-watchers were "intimidated by opposition goons, ejected physically from the polls and even arrested on trumped-up charges."

He declares that many "ghosts" were found to have registered — in one case, 21 from a single building that had been destroyed months before. The same kind of thing occurred in the registration processes in different states.

But the effect of having the poll-watchers was dramatic. In one ward in Chicago the total vote in 1960 had been 22,236, but when poll-watches were stationed in 28 out of the 50 precincts, the vote fell to 16,049 in 1968.

John N. Mitchell, who now is attorney general, was the man who acted on behalf of Mr. Nixon in 1968 in helping to set up, with the assistance of Mr. Nichols, the bipartisan army of 100,000 volunteers who worked to insure an honest election.

Mr. Mitchell recommended to Congress last Thursday that the attorney general be empowered to send federal examiners and election observers into any county "if he determines that their presence is necesary to protect the right of citizens to vote."

MR. MITCHELL PROPOSED also that a presidential advisory commission be established "to study the effects which literacy tests have upon minority groups, to study the problem of election frauds and to report to Congress its findings and recommendations for any new legislation protecting the right to vote."

He declared that "responsible citizenship does not necessarily imply literacy" and that "responsible voting does not necessarily imply an education."

But the truth of the matter is that illiteracy makes it easy for election irregularities to occur. Unless the whole subject of literacy is reexamined impartially, it may turn out that the opportunities for fraud and the bribery of voters will be increased if all literacy tests are abandoned.

ANN LANDERS

A Special Day Today

By Ann Landers

Dear Readers: This may be just another day to you, but it's a very special day in my life.

Thirty years ago, on a sweltering Sunday afternoon in Sioux City, Iowa, Jules Lederer slipped a plain gold band on my finger and I became his wife.

Honesty forbids my describing myself as a student at Morningside College, so I'll simply say I was enrolled there. Jules had had one year at Northwestern — high school, that is. He was a product of Detroit — handsome, energetic, imaginative, a born optimist and eager to take on the world. He had a good job and a promising future. He was also broke.

I WAS an effervescent, fun-loving girl, hopelessly square, driven by a crusading spirit to save the world — sort of a Jewish Joan of Arc.

I also was engaged to marry a law student in California. But Jules, never one to be discouraged by small obstacles, asked me to marry him anyway. I said yes and the wedding took place three months later.

We were blessed the following year with a baby girl, Margo From then on, I saw more of the moving van than I saw of Jules. When an opportunity for advancement arose, he took it. And it seemed always to be in another city.

We moved from Sioux City to St. Louis, from St. Louis to New Orleans, from New Orleans to Milwaukee.

Then came World War II and Jules served in the infantry. In 1945 we moved from Little Rock to Los Angeles, from Los Angeles to Eau Claire, Wis., and from Eau Claire to Chicago.

TIME, that subtle thief of youth, often is cursed by those who long to stop the clock, or turn it back, but we want none of that. Each year has been better than the last because we've grown together.

A good marriage, it is said, is made in heaven. This might be true, but the maintenance work must be done right down here. A successful marriage is not a gift; it's an achievement.

No real marriage can exist without differences in opinion and the ensuing battles. But battles can be healthy. They bring to marriage the vital principle of equal partnership. If there's a secret to making marriage work it's "Never go to bed mad."

Our 30 years together have been blessed with good health, good fortune, good friends, good times and success. Jules says he could not have made it without me. I'm not sure he's right. But I could not have made it without him, and of THIS I'm certain.

HE TAUGHT ME how to be alone without feeling sorry for myself. He taught me never to back away from a challenge — that it's better to try and fail and then to try again. He taught me how to use my time productively. His work habits are impeccable. I learned mine from him.

Being Mrs. Jules Lederer has been superb training for Ann Landers. Thirty years with this unselfish, supportive, responsive man has enabled me to live life as few people get the opportunity to live.

Being Ann Landers' husband could pose a terrible problem but Jules has met the challenge with dignity and incredible good humor.

My husband is my best friend, and I am his. I consider it a privilege to be the wife of this beautiful guy who took on the world with a ninth-grade education and a hole in his sock.

'Total Breakdown'

Accounting System Cited In Oil Losses To Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tens of millions of gallons of petroleum shipped to U.S. fighting forces in Vietnam could not be accounted for in 1967 because of what Pentagon auditors branded a "total breakdown" of a complex, unmanageable accounting system.

In case after case, a nine-man Joint Petroleum Technical Assistance Team concluded it was impossible to learn with certainty whether any of thousands of petroleum shipments inside Vietnam ever reached their destinations.

This was true, it said, due to confusion, negligence and the stresses of war and because receipts, reports and other vital documents were either ignored or not filled out correctly.

In one instance, the team reported, the Air Force could not account for $21 million in petroleum products the team blamed the loss on incomplete terminal reporting, saying no records exist as to whom the fuels were delivered.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who last year triggered a General Accounting Office investigation which disclosed the theft of millions of gallons of fuel in Thailand, asked the Pentagon to release its private Vietnam fuel report.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, Proxmire said he also wanted to know if any more recent petroleum auditing investigations have been made in Vietnam.

He asked details on steps taken to shore up the system as it existed in fiscal 1967 and in early 1968 when the auditors' report was compiled and written.

"In view of the gross inadequacies in the preparation, distribution and control of documentation for receipt, storage and distribution of bulk POL (fuels and lubricants), the team concluded that there had been a complete breakdown in the accounting system," the report said.

"All participants agreed," it said at another point," that team recommendations, if implemented, would result in improved property administration and accounting.

"Without exception, however, the consensus was that the complexities of the current system with split responsibilities are completely unmanageable," it said. "Thus control and accounting for POL throughout Vietnam will undoubtedly be a continuing problem."

The report criticized dozens of petroleum management practices. These included lack of government checks of the accuracy of measuring devices on oil tanks, the lack of what it called adequate procedures to assure that costly oil drums were returned for credit and the lack of adequate checks on the operations of private civilian contractors who supply the petroleum in the first place.

The auditors said it was not always possible to demand documentation for petroleum deliveries made under hostile enemy fire. It related that eleven 5,000 gallon tank trucks were destroyed in one day while the auditing team was in Vietnam.

But in other cases, when enemy action was not a factor, the auditors described a system in which little or no control could be maintained on the huge and expensive flow of military fuels.

5 To Be Honored In Long Service

Five men who began their employment with the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. in 1919 will be honored for 50 years service during the annual summer outing of the Employes 25-Year Club July 12.

Otto Price, club president, said the outing will begin at 11 a.m. at the Weirton Police Lodge, with the awards ceremony starting at noon.

A buffet luncheon will be served throughout the day and a stage show featuring acts of top professional entertainment will be presented immediately after the awards ceremony and again at 4:30 p.m.

Members who will receive gold watches in recognition of 50 years service are Frank E. Briscoe of the Steel Works; Marcus S. Freese, retired Tin Mill employe; Harry Matis of the Steubenville Plant; John Sage, retired Strip Steel employe, and John K. Maude, retired General Office employe.

First Camp Will Wind Up At Tomlinson

The first of three 4-H camps at Tomlinson Run State Park in Hancock County will wind up Saturday. It opened Monday.

The theme is "Building for the Future."

The camp director is Hobart Coffman and the instructor is Pamela Osburn, both of West Virginia University. The general camp committee includes Mrs. John S. Hobbs, Theodore Kokochak, Earl Jones, Betty Baker and Leah Waggoner. The nurse is Mrs. John Hobbs and the cook Mrs. Alvin Reed. Leaders are Mrs. Earl Jones, Frances Kokochak, Marilyn Freeman, Bill Miller, Tony Lorello and John Mayhew.

There are 73 enrolled for the present camp, 91 for Camp Two, which will begin Sunday, and 66 for Camp Three, beginning July 13.

Classes being presented include hunter safety, instructed by Carl Kirkland, county conservation officer; straw handbags, Mrs. Jones; The Boutique, beauty school; outdoor living, Boy Scouts; archery, Archery Club, and Folk Dancing, Sherri Pepper.

A special feature of this week's camp is a series of programs on careers arranged by Miss Kokochak.

Guests for vesper programs arranged by Mrs. Andrew Waggoner are the Rev. Richard L. Meyer, the Rev. Pelton E. Vandercoy, the Rev. Robert H. Rome and the Rev. Denzil Weese.

Stadium Bids Due

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bids will be opened July 15 on a $1.6 million project to improve access routes to Cincinnati's new municipal stadium, the Ohio Department of Highways reported Wednesday.

60 Springfield Policemen Keep Reporting Sick

SPRINGFIELD Ohio (AP)— More than 60 policemen on Springfield's 115-man force continued to call in sick today as supervisory personnel took over law enforcement in this city of more than 85,000.

A move for more pay on the part of policemen is the basis for the current difficulties.

Local police officials are keeping Gov. James A. Rhodes advised of the situation and would seek help of the Ohio National Guard if an extreme emergency should arise.

There was no immediate plans for a negotiating session. The local of the Fraternal Order of Police Association which represents most of the policemen has not sanctioned the action.

City Manager Alfred P. Strozdas said the city has no plans of invoking Ohio's Ferguson Act, which prohibits strikes by public employes. However, he said the policemen who are calling in sick are being marked absent without leave and excuses for being absent will be examined carefully.

Earlier this year the City Commission granted police a payment of $325 to be paid between the first of the year and June 30, with an understanding that any further payments would have to be linked to a city income tax increase. However, the income tax proposal was not placed on the May primary ballot as expected. The $325 increase was paid in two installments.

Now the policemen want to talk about more money and city officials contend they have none to offer.

The current minimum pay of patrolmen is $6,021 and ranges up to $7,482.

Go-Go Girls Strike Cincinnati Lounge

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eight scantily clad go-go dancers struck the Tahiki Lounge in suburban Cheviot late Wednesday night, causing a minor traffic jam as they paraded outside the establishment with picket signs.

"You girls put some clothes on or you're all under arrest," a policeman shouted.

They dropped their signs and rushed inside. Moments later they came out with red table clothes draped around them.

TOPS Club Sets Various Events

The group will have a football coach's night at the Lion's pavilion Aug. 27. Tony Verzilli, Lou DiCiccio and Dan Zuppe will be chairmen. A parents' night for football will be held sometime in September. James Lento, president, will name the committee.

DiCiccio, holiday tournament chairman, reported he and his committee are making arrangements for housing of coaches and players for the tournament.

Chemists have discovered 103 chemical elements.

Ohio Pen Inmate Fatally Stabbed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "personality clash" may have led to the fatal stabbing of an Ohio Penitentiary inmate, Highway Patrol investigators reported today.

The victim, 28-year-old William H. Crawford Jr. of Toledo, was pronounced dead Wednesday night in the prison hospital shortly after the stabbing in a dormitory housing 79 inmates.

Ptl. Ed Waltz, assigned to the said authorities had a "good" suspect but several other inmates would be questioned before any charges are filed.

Crawford, admitted to the prison in 1965 to serve a 10-25 year sentence on an armed robbery conviction in Toledo, suffered several stab wounds.

Assistant Warden L. G. Ridenour said Crawford suffered cuts in the throat, chest and arms.

The murder weapon, described as a flat piece of metal that had been filed down, was found by investigators at the scene of the slaying.

Bucks Nominees Who Support It

Fulbright Tries To Turn Tables On Nixon In ABM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright is trying to turn the tabes on Presient Nixon by bucking administration nominees who support deployment of Safeguard antiballistic missiles—ABMs.

At Fulbright's direction the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he heads has passed over Nixon's nomination of William J. Casey as a member of the General Advisory Committee of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Casey, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Security, is leading a publicity campaign for the administration ABM program which Fulbright strongly opposes.

All 15 appointees to the agency got caught in the same hold order.

In addition, Fulbright said he expects to recall Spurgeon M. Keeny Jr., chosen for assistant director of the disarmament agency.

President Nixon told an April news conference he had decided not to appoint Dr. Franklin Long of Cornell University as head of the National Science Foundation because of the latter's opposition to ABM.

While Fulbright didn't say so, it seemed obvious to his colleagues the Arkansas Democrat is of mind to make the road difficult for appointees who get out in front in support of ABM, an issue that will come before the Senate after the July 4 recess.

Fulbright said he wants to explore "the published views" of Casey. The chairman made it clear he was concerned about a newspaper advertisement in which Casey's committee said a public opinion poll showed 84 per cent of Americans support ABM. Fulbright questions that assessment.

Casey, in putting out an appeal Wednesday for citizens to write their senators and congressmen, said a 10 per cent minority was stimulating mail against ABM.

Fulbright's quarrel with Keeny is over the latter's testimoney at a committee hearing that he favors continuation of work on both offensive and defensive weapons.

The Committee chairman said it was "pitiful . . . awful" that Keeny should testify that the Soviet Union might regard U.S. interncontinental missiles as "part of a first strike counterforce capability."

Fulbright announced he was going to oppose the Kenny nomination. He temporarily withheld judgment on Casey until the latter testifies.

County Woman Earns Degree In Fine Arts

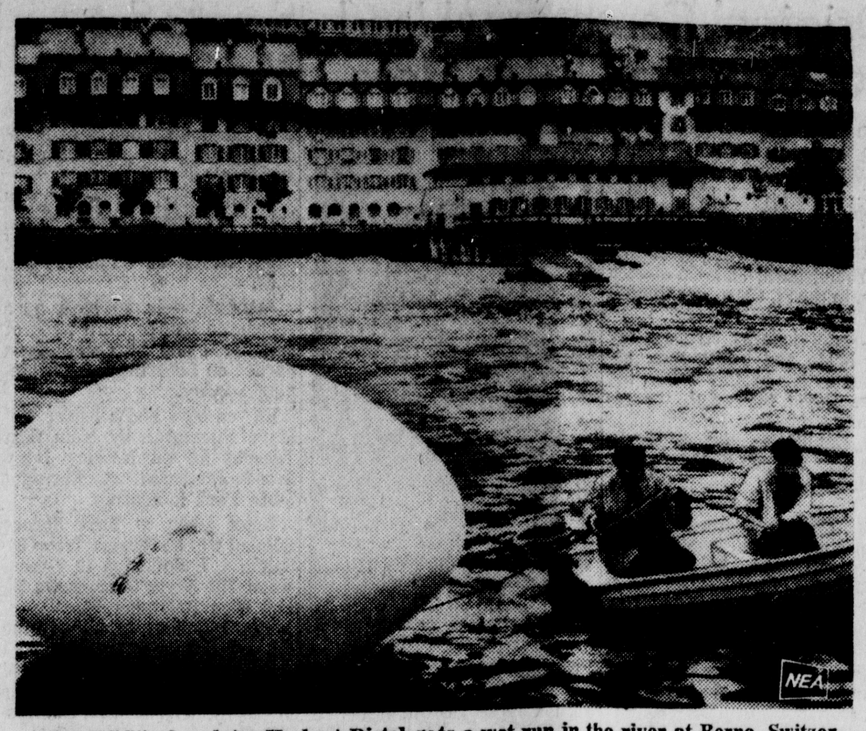

Vicki Hindman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hindman of Guilford Lake, has been graduated from Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky., with a B. A. degree in fine arts. She expects to teach next school year in the Columbiana County school system.

A former East Liverpool resident, Miss Hindman attended McKinley Elementary School and was graduated from United High School near Hanoverton in 1965.

She is a member and past secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma national sorority, won several art awards during her college career and made the dean's list last term.

Junk Man Finds Paintings Estimated Worth $720,000

LONDON (AP) — Junk man Eddie Mitchell was cleaning out an empty shop basement when he discovered 25 paintings in a suitcase wrapped in an old blue bedspread. First he wanted to burn them; then he unsuccessfully tried to sell them for $1 apiece.

Finally he took one to an art shop "to see if it was worth anything."

It was one of Picasso's best known works, "Weeping Woman," worth an estimated $200,000. Besides five other Picasso's there were others by Marc Chagall, Georges Braque, Max Ernst and Miro. The 25 paintings were worth $720,000.

Mitchell, 30, told how he and a fellow worker, Aubrey Worman, found the paintings while clearing rubbish from an old building in a West London suburb Tuesday.

"We thought they were rubbish and my mate Aub said: 'Throw them out, they're no good.' I handed the suitcase to Aub and said: 'Throw them on the pile with the rest of the rubbish.'

"Aub said: 'Let's try to flog (sell) them.' We took four paintings across the road to a shop and said to one of the blokes: 'Give us a dollar for each of them and they're yours.' He said 'Get lost.'"

Eventually Mitchell took the Picasso to an art shop. Marcus Taylor, 41, a photographer whose wife runs the shop, had it verified. Mitchell told him there were others and Taylor went to look at them. Both decided to call Scotland Yard.

Detectives identified the paintings as those stolen last April from the home of Sir Roland Penrose, one of Britain's leading art collectors.

Mitchell and "Aub" are eligible for a $72,000 reward Penrose offered for return of the paintings.

June's Figures Given In Titling

LISBON — The car title division of the Columbiana County clerk of courts office paid the state treasurer $126,861 from June collections.

Clerk Carl L. Stacey said the state received $107,180 from the collection of the dealers' tax, $16,247 from sales and use tax, $2,337 from car title fees and $1,097 for inspection certificates.

The county last month titled 686 new vehicles worth $2,400,538, compared with 638 ($2,048,560) in June last year. Records show 747 new vehicles were titled in April this year and 706 in May.

The title department issued 4,297 auto titles, 65 duplicate titles, 1,089 momorandums, five duplicate memorandums, 1,684 notations of liens, 1,256 cancellations of liens and 1,303 acknowledgments.

Stacey said his office paid the county treasurer $10,875 last month in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the car title department. Civil cases filed totaled 108, compared with 77 for June last year.

Statements Due On Real Estate

LISBON — Columbiana County property owners can expect to receive within the next two weeks real estate tax statements for the last half of 1968.

Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said he expects to have the statements covering approximately 70,000 properties in the mail by July 15.

The bills will carry a closing or due date of Aug. 20, about one month later than last year because of the reappraisal.

Judge said owners as of Jan. 1 of any year are obligated for the full tax year. Tax statements are mailed as an aid to the collection and failure of a statement to reach the owner gives him no legal defense against penalties, the treasurer pointed out.

Persons who purchase property usually assume the tax liability from the date of transfer. Judge said new property owners in addition to recording the deed must notify the treasurer's office, giving a description of the property purchased and the name of the former owner.

Brian Jones, Pop Music Idol, Drowns

LONDON (AP) — Brian Jones, 26-year-old pop music idol who rose to stardom as one of Britain's Rolling Stones, died today while taking a midnight swim at his Hartfield home. The tour manager of the singing group said asthma may have contributed to his death.

Tom Keylock said: "It is possible that Brian had an attack of asthma while he was bathing. Jones has suffered from asthma for some years and it was particularly bad when there was a lot of pollen about. There was an asthma inhaler, which Brian used to help him with his breathing, at the side of the swimming pool."

A spokesman at Jones' home said Frank Thorogood, a contractor who is modernizing the house, and a blonde girl friend were at the pool when Jones went for his midnight swim. After about 20 minutes the girl went into the house and Thorogood went for a cigarette.

"When Mr. Thorogood went back to the swimming pool, he saw Brian at the bottom," the spokesman said. Thorogood and the girl dived in and pulled Jones out. The girl attempted mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Thorogood tried artificial respiration.

Jones quit the popular quintet last month, saying he wanted to play his own type music.

"The music of Keith Richard and Mick Jagger has to my mind progressed at a tangent as far as my own tastes are concerned," he had said. "I have a desire to play my own brand of music rather than that of others, no matter how much I appreciate their musical concepts."

Richard writes the msuic for the quintet, Jagger, the group's leader and singer, writes the lyrics.

Rolling Stones records have sold 43 million copies around the world. Their latest hits were "Jumpin' Jack Flash" and "Beggars Banquet."

Cupid Is Busy

LISBON — Columbiana County Probate Court clerks handled a record 134 marriage license applications in June, compared with 122 for the same month a year ago and 112 in June 1967. There were 68 applications in May this year.

J&L Starts Shutdown In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the nation's sixth largest producer, has begun a shutdown of its Pittsburgh works because of what it calls an illegal job boycott by about 600 open hearth workers.

The company announced its decision Wednesday—four days after the workers began calling off sick in a dispute over incentive pay.

A company spokesman said the total shutdown could require three to four days and would result in layoffs of more than 11,000 workers. The company said the shutdown was caused by a rapidly decreasing supply of raw steel which is produced by the open hearth workers.

Several hours before the shutdown was announced, the open hearth workers voted for the second time in as many days to remain off the job. The decision came despite a telegram from I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers Union, urging the men to return to work.

William A. Welsh, a sub-director of USW District 20, said Abel told the men he had been informed by the company that the boycott was illegal and urged them to return to work.

Welsh said the idle workers stipulated they would not return to work until the company guaranteed them amnesty and established a permanent incentive plan.

Union officials said the men had been working under an interim incentive plan until last January. When the plan expired, the company proposed a new program. The union objected and the matter went into negotiations.

The company claims the matter is still under discussion and under the labor pact, the walkout is illegal.

The Pittsburgh works is one of J&L's three major steel operations. The others in Aliquippa, Beaver County, and Cleveland, Ohio, are not affected by the Pittsburgh dispute.

Three Companies Seek Boost In Auto Insurance

HARRISBURG (AP) — The first, second and fourth largest writers of automobile insurance in Pennsylvania have filed for increases on private and commercial automobile policies, the State Insurance Department reports.

Acting Insurance Commisioner George F. Reed identified the companies Wednesday as State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., the largest single writer of auto insurance; Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co., the second largest and Aetna Casualty and Surety Co., fourth largest.

An over-all 29.1 per cent increase in family auto liability, comprehensive and collision rates was sought by State Farm in an attempt to bring in an estimated $14,055,800. State Farm also sought an over-all 24.5 per cent increase in commercial auto liability rates amounting to an estimated $105,600.

Nationwide asked for an over-all 14.9 per cent in family automobile liability, comprehensive and collision which would result in an estimated $2,711,676 in additional revenue.

An estimated $2,711,676 in additional revenue would be realized from Aetna's request for an over-all 23 per cent increase in family automobile policy liability, comprehensive and collision rates.

More than 47,000 registered nurses were employed as office nurses in the United States in 1966.

Jamaica's Next Rockefeller Stop On Latin Tour

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Firecrackers and scattered gunfire resounded through the almost deserted streets of Santo Domingo Wednesday night as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller attended a dinner in his honor at the National Palace.

After meeting with Dominican leaders today, the New York governor leaves for Kingston, Jamaica, the next stop on his Latin American fact-finding tour for President Nixon.

Despite the most extensive security measures since the 1965 Dominican civil war, occasional shots could be heard in various parts of the capital, but no casualties or damage were reported.

Notebook The Social

Plans for a missionary exhibit were outlined during the meeting of the Ann Judson Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church Tuesday night in the social rooms.

The event will be held Sept. 21, with items from other countries to be displayed. Bags for the Begian Congo also will be assembled.

Mrs. Hazel Tittle conducted devotions and Mrs. Mary Wagers led prayer calls. The love gift was dedicated by Mrs. Beverly Bayley, who read an article.

The program topic, "The Biblical Basis for Putting Love Into Deeds," was discussed by Mrs. Edythe Kittridge.

Mrs. Bertha Woods, leader, opened business with prayer.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Etta Serafy and Mrs. Bertha Woods.

The next session will be Aug. 5.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Alice Owen was host to the Gay Eight Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Clarice Cronin of Railroad St., Chester. Mrs. Owen was presented a hostess gift.

Guests were Mrs. Judy Lewis and Mrs. Grace Muir. Game prizes were won by Mrs. Margaret George, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Merry Ann Darrah.

The next meeting will be Juy 15 with Mrs. Sue Stollenwerk of Anderson Blvd.

⁂ ⁂ ⁂

Mrs. Robin Gallagher was honored with a stork shower given Sunday evening by Mrs. Ruth Keister of Columbiana at the home of her mother, Mrs. Dorothy McKnight of Moore St.

Gifts were displayed in a cradle decorated with pink and blue streamers and bows. Miss Kimberly Keister and Miss Holly Maple assisted with the gifts.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Jean Trainer, who awarded prizes to Mrs. Linda Miller, Mrs. Jean Robinson and Mrs. Virginia Perkins.

Original Ceremony Used For Wedding Rites Here

An original wedding ceremony was used when Miss Donna Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Alexander of 1912 Michigan Ave., became the bride of Phillip Roseberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roseberry of Youngstown, June 22 at 2:30 p.m. in the St. Clair Ave. Church of Christ.

The service was composed by the bride and bridegroom, assisted by her brother-in-law, the Rev. David Sherwood, the officiating minister. He is a Bible and English teacher at Northeastern Christian College of Philadelphia.

AS THE bridegroom, best man and ushers entered the sanctuary, Rev. Sherwood read "The Creation of Man" and as the bridesmaids entered "The Creation of Woman." Mrs. Nancy Hadley sang "I'll Walk Beside You" as the bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Palms, ferns and candelabra formed the altar background. Satin bows marked the family pews. Vocal duets were presented by Mrs. Hadley and Charles Newman. Double-ring rites marked the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a full-length gown of silk organza fashioned with an Empire bodice emhasized with Chantilly lace. A scoop neckline, long sleeves and detachable chapel train completed details.

Her cathedral mantilla was bordered with the same lace. She carried a cascade of miniature carnations and stephanotis tied with satin streamers. In observing the traditions, she carried a lace handkerchief, the gift of Miss Mary Eardley.

Mrs. Carol Sherwood, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full-length gown of mint green dotted Swiss fashioned with an Empire bodice, round neckline and long sleeves. Her matching Dior bow headpiece held an illusion veil.

Bridesmaids, appearing in identical gowns, were Miss Linda Alexander, sister of the bride, who wore yellow, and Miss Nancy Roseberry, the bridegroom's sister, who wore pink. They carried Colonial bouquets of daisies tinted to match their gowns.

Karen Hadley, flower girl, wore a blue dotted Swiss dress with matching headpiece. She carried a basket of daisies. Steve Sherwood, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

MRS. PHILLIP ROSEBERRY
Residing In Nashville.

Norman McKee of Cleveland served as best man. Ushers were Charles Newman of Paducah, Ky., and Marvin McGaffic of Cleveland.

The mother of the bride chose a pink lace dress and the bridegroom's mother a blue lace dress. Matching accessories and white carnation corsages complemented their attire. Mrs. Rose Alexander and Mrs. Lucy Ward, grandmothers of the bride, wore white carnations to complete their attire.

A RECEPTION for 250 followed at the Calcutta Fire Hall, where decorations predominated in a "daisy" theme highlighting the colors of yellow and green. The buffet table was centered with a four-tier cake flanked by silver candleholders.

Aides were Mrs. Clark Grimm, aunt of the bride, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Robert Hadley, Mrs. Don Adams and Mrs. William Stillwell.

Following a honeymoon trip, the newlyweds will reside in Nashville, Tenn. For traveling, the bride was attired in a pink linen dress with white accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bride was graduated from David Lipscomb College at Nashville with a bachelor of arts degree in education. She will teach first grade in the public school system of Nashville. Her husband is a senior at the college and plans to go into the ministry.

Chester Resident Marries In Maryland Ceremonies

Warning Issued To Strollers And Waders At Lake

LISBON — Guilford Lake State Park management looked for a minimum of patrolling this summer what with the lake lowered for dam repair, but barefoot strollers and waders are giving the employes headaches.

Manager Nelson Hively said the dried lake bottom looks safe enough, but the gravel and sand hide broken bottles by the thousands.

And the water's edge is dangerous for wading, he said, since the bottom is soft mud, almost like quicksand.

"On Decoration Day we pulled out a little boy mired up to his chest. I don't know how many other cases there have been that we haven't heard about."

He issued the warning in anticipation of crowds of campers and sightseers over the weekend.

Crews are seeding the earthen dike above the new stone facing of the dam, Hively said. Water in the lake has been rising slowly since the siphon was closed five weeks ago.

The state's fish management section is in charge of a fish removal and restrocking program at the lake.

FREEDOM — Dr. John B. Hirt, president of the Community College of Beaver County and a lieutenant colonel in the Marine Corps Reserves, has been appointed adjunct professor of Military Science, Command and Staff College, Marine Corps School, at Quantico, Va.

Darla Joy Dingey Is Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Darla Joy Dingey wore a full-length gown of chantilly lace when she became the bride of Phillip L. Boso in a candlelight ceremony June 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the Anderson United Methodist Church, Calcutta.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin D. Dingey of 615 W. 9th St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Boso of Glenn St., Glenmoor.

The Rev. Carl L. Murray officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar flanked with white carnations, chrysanthemums, pompons, snapdragons, palms and ferns. White candelabra accented with satin bows completed the setting. A large white Bible and a gold cross were placed at the altar, with candelabra on each side. The family pews were marked with satin bows.

MISS JANE DAVIS, organist, played a half-hour recital of wedding music. Mrs. Eileen Brown sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" and, as the couple stood at the altar, "The Lord's Prayer."

The ceremony concluded when the bride and bridegroom lighted a large wedding candle together to symbolize the "togetherness" of marriage.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her boouffant gown of French design had a scalloped Sabrina neckline highlighted with sequins and iridescent pearls with long sheer lace sleeves tapering to a point.

The basque bodice descended to a ruffled five-tiered skirt fashioned along courtly lines that flowed to a chapel sweep. Sequins and iridescent pearls were repeated on the scalloped ruffles of the skirt and train.

Her elbow-length bouffant veil of imported English illusion was held in place by a double layer of pearl outlined chantilly lace petals with aurora borealis center trim and featured a back bow of organza.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, white carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath enhanced with white satin streamers and a string of pearls tied in lovers' knots.

In observing the traditions, she wore a sterling silver heart-shaped necklace centered with a diamond, a gift from the bridegroom; a blue garter, and carried a sixpence in her shoe which came from England.

Miss Cheryl Williams, maid of honor, wore a slipper length fiesta pink empire sheath of chantilly lace over taffeta, featuring a round neckline, short lace sleeves and styled with a simulated chiffon coat with back fullness, accented with satin bows at the shoulders and a satin ribbon encircling the high-rise waist.

Her matching headpiece consisted of a forward cluster of organza petals centered with lily bells and topped with a velvet ribbon bow and petals attached to a short tiered veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, white carnations and baby's breath tied with pink satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joyce Kontnier and Mrs. Elizabeth Blackmore, sisters of the bride, and Miss Virginia Boso, sister of the bridegroom. They were attired in full-length gowns identically to that of the maid of honor, but in Bermuda blue.

MRS. PHILLIP BOSO
Honeymoons In Florida.

Clarence William Powell was best man. Ushers were Richard Kontnier and Niles Blackmore, brothers-in-law of the bride; Kenneth Boso, brother of the bridegroom, and Earl Headley, cousin of the bride.

Todd Boso, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer. He carried a heart-shaped satin pillow with miniature wedding bands tied on with white satin streamers.

The mother of the bride chose a pink two-piece ensemble with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a two - piece pink suit with a pink hat and white accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Pauline Dingey, grandmother of the bride, was among those attending the wedding.

A RECEPTION for 125 followed in the church social rooms, sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth, draped with pink maline and caught at intervals with lily of the valley and white wedding bells. It was centered with a four-tier wedding cake separated with white swans and encircled with yellow flowers and lily of the valley, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Wedding bells and pink and blue streamers decorated the serving table.

Aides were Mrs. Elsie Justice, Mrs. Dorothy Shattenberg, Mrs. Evelyn Steele, Mrs. Florence Geisz, Miss Geri Schou, Miss Jana L. Schorr and Miss Edythe Mathews. Miss Dorothy Haugh registered the guests.

For her honeymoon trip to Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, Fla., the bride chose a two-piece denim blue ensemble with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink roses.

Both are 1968 graduates of East Liverpool High School. She is employed in the credit department of the Smith and Phillips Co. He is a mechanic for the L. W. Hamilton Service Station in East End.

Wellsville Furniture

Sure we have all kinds, from all cotton to foam rubber, in all sizes with boxsprings to match, but we recommend SEALY'S Golden Sleeper at $39.95 for a low priced mattress that the factory will back up and we can be sure you will get your dollar's worth.

SEALY'S Posterpedic mattress for $89.95 is the world's best especially for folks who are middle aged or past whose health means more to them than the extra cost (ask your doctor). The posterpedic extra firm mattress overcomes those backache pains, twitches, arthretic and insomnia troubles that cause you to get up so early.

Another reason for our increased mattress sales, is service. We put either your mattress or boxsprings or both on your bed (not just dump them at your home and leave), and dispose of your old one for you.

Thant Asks Global Pact To Ban All Germ Warfare

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant has called for a worldwide pact banning the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical and germ warfare agents for "their effective elimination from the arsenal of weapons."

Thant's three-point proposal was sent to the U.N. Disarmament Committee that opened a new round of discussions in Geneva today, to all 126 members of the United Nations and to the U.N. Security Council.

The program also urges all nations to accede to the Geneva Protocol of 1925, which prohibits the use of poisonous gas and germ warfare, and calls for a clear affirmation that the 1925 ban applies to the use in war of all germ and chemical agents, including tear gas.

The United States signed but never ratified the protocol, which has the formal endorsement of more than 60 governments. Japan is the only other major power that has not acceded to the agreement.

Thant's recommendations were accompanied by a 118-page study prepared for him by an international group of 14 experts.

The experts warned that "any country could develop or acquire" the capacity to wage war with chemical or bacteriological weapons and that there is no sure defense against such weapons. Some of them, the experts said, could endanger the future of mankind.

Although gas warfare was used in World War I and a number of nations are known to have stockpiled chemical and germ weapons during and since World War II, the experts cited only the United States as an example of a nation which has used the weapons in a recent war. They cited American use of herbicides to defoliate jungles and forests in South Vietnam.

"There is as yet no scientific evaluation of the long-term ecological changes resulting from these attacks," the report said. "One estimate is that some mangrove forests may need 20 years to regenerate, and fears have been expressed about the future of the animal population."

How to stop lawn weeds now!

TURF BUILDER PLUS 2 is made especially for people who hate lawn weeds and love healthy green grass. It's easy to use—nothing to mix, measure or spray. PLUS-2 clears out 24 common rosette and vining weeds roots and all, so they can't grow back as they do after digging or cutting. And that's not all. PLUS-2 also full-fertilizes your grass at the same time. Makes it grow greener, thicker, sturdier. The time to spread PLUS-2 is now, while weeds are growing. Then sit back and enjoy a better lawn this year . . . and next spring too.

"LOCAL businesses will benefit by our decision to build here," Roorback said. "Industry will realize tax dollars and our demand on local suppliers for greater volumes of raw materials will rise sharply."

The district manager said that liquid asphalt and aggregates — sand, gravel, slag and limestone — will be bought in the county. Also, the firm will require more truckers to deliver the highly perishable product.

"Asphalt paving must be delivered to the job at the state mandated 300 degrees Fahrenheit," Roorback explained. "We bid on jobs within a 25-mile radius to assure deliveries."

When completed about Aug. 15, the operation will produce some 2,000 tons of asphalt paving daily — enough to resurface a two - lane highway a distance of one mile.

"Peoples Gas promoted the Industry site," Roorback said, "guaranteed gas service and arranged a meeting with Midland Industries, Inc., to purchase the property."

Responsible for liaison between the gas utility and Interstate were Paul Gosser and Richard Kostkas, area development and industrial sales representatives for Peoples.

ROORBACK said the location is ideal because it provides frontage for a dock and railroad and highway routes.

Roorback says the new plant is unique in the county. Its modern facilities will include the only river dock between East Liverpool and Rochester for bulk materials.

An underground conveyor system will move raw materials from storage to natural gas-fired heaters for drying purposes. Dry aggregates will then be combined with heated liquid asphalt to form paving.

"Our fully automated and quality controlled operation will be the finest in our business," Roorback said.

In order to meet the plant's annual gas requirements of 40 million cubic feet, Peoples will extend a six - inch distribution line to the site at a cost of $35,000.

The Pitsburgh - based utility will be serving 14 asphalt plants by mid-1969 in its 16-county territory, four owned by Interstate.

Roorback said that Richard Hummer, manager of Interstate's Monaca plant, will direct Industry operations. Robert Vannauker will be foreman of the new plant. The paving company's home office is just south of Philadelphia at Concordville.

Peoples Gas reports it maintains and promotes a file of 200 available industrial tracts and buildings to encourage industry to expand or construct new operations locally.

Since 1962, almost 200 new plants opened and provided employment for over 12,800 people in Peoples 16-county service area. Another 170 existing plants expanded to make available 6,800 additional jobs.

The firm advertises industrial buildings and sites in local and national publications.

circumstances the City of East Liverpool does not intend to contest the petition. He pointed out that he advised Council several times that an appropriation of $5,000 to $10,000 would be required to hire engineers and rate experts to gather the data with which to contest the application. No funds were provided, he pointed out.

The solicitor and Mayor George E. Willshaw received copies of an engineering report in early June, a summary of findings made by PUCO investigators that asserted the company now is earning only a 2.63 per cent profit on its investment here, in contrast to the 6 to 7 per cent the state agency customarily allows.

Kapp said at the time he expects the PUCO will grant Ohio Valley a new rate close to the 15 per cent hike it seeks.

The city's negotiations with the gas company on a new rate date back to mid-1967. Council was offered the alternative of setting the rate locally by enacting an ordinance, but the legislation was defeated.

The former Council, which retired at the end of 1967, had enacted a rate ordinance, but it was repealed by the present Council as one of its first official acts. Another ordinance, designed to set a lower rate, failed of passage by a split vote.

4 to 7 p.m. — Concert at Lincoln Park by Jimmy Sebastian's Monaca Cornet Band.

8 to 9:30 p.m. — Drum and bugle corps competition and exhibition at the high school stadium.

9:45 p.m. — Aerial fireworks.

Midland's parade will start at 11 a.m. this year instead of 10:30 as in the past. It will include nine general class floats and two junior class, and 12 bands, including seven area high schools, three drum and bugle corps, the East Liverpool Shrine Band and Jimmy Sebastian's Monaca Cornet Band.

High School bands in the parade will be Midland, Western Beaver, Beaver Falls, South Side, Monaca, East Liverpool and Wellsville. The Pittsburgh Rockets, the Cranberry Township Pasajero's and the Wilmerding, Pa., Sundowners will be the three marching corps.

YOUTH FLOATS will be entered by the CYO of Midland and Ohioville Girl Scout Troop 237. All floats will be pre-judged before the start of the parade and will be given final judging at the reviewing stand in front of the Presbyterian Church.

Miss Maxine Anderson of Midland who won the title of "Miss Congeniality" in the recent Miss Pennsylvania Contest will ride in the parade. The AFA Association of Beaver will enter a convertible featuring Miss Aero Space of 1968-1969.

Other units will include the Silky Terriers of Carmen Cananzi of Midland, Chief Logan Raiders of East Liverpool and four drill teams, including the Scot-ettes of Beaver Falls, Sons of American Legion Squadron 418 of Midland, the "Soul Roulets" of Midland, and Wellsville American Legion Post 70.

Other marching units will include the Modernettes (chimes, drums and bugles) of Finleyville, Pa., the South Hills Rebels (batons and drums) of South Hills, Pa., Midland Boy Scout Troop 415, Boy Scout Troop 546 of Industry, Boy Scout Troop 470 of Industry, Boy Scout Troop 455 of Monaca, Boy Scout Troop 406 of Beaver, Cub Scout Pack 78 of East Liverpool, Cub Scout Pack 546 of Midland, R. D. 1, Cub Scout Pack 553 of R. D. 1, Midland, the Midland Assembly of God, a Brownie Troop of R. D. 1, Midland, and the Acettes of Wellsville.

THE PARADE will be led by color guards of several veteran posts, including American Legion Posts 481 and 533 of Midland, and Wellsville Post 70, and East Liverpool VFW Post 66.

—:—

VARIOUS CRUCIBLE and borough parking lots will be available for visitors' parking. Midland, state, county and area borough police will assist with traffic.

Nicholas Aloi, playground director, will be in charge of the children's games in Lincoln Park. A variety show will follow at the park at 1:30 p.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

The program, aimed at the children will feature clowns and children's entertainment, but there will be music for those of all ages. The music will include an hour long concert by the Midland High School Band. This will be followed by a half hour concert by the "Big Boogie D and His Madcaps," which will combine Jazz, popular music, rock, contemporary and soul.

"Geier," a hand stand and balancing expert from Europe, will be included in the show at the band shell. Uncle Jack and Aunt Kay, clowns, who have the ability to get music from bottles, will be enjoyed by the children.

The "Simpson Humanettes," lifelike puppets, will be appearing in their own little theater on stage. Their act will include music, dancing and clowning. Throughout the day, "Hey You," the clown and his sidekick will be among the crowds of children amusing them. They will also appear on stage with a balloon act.

A SLEIGHT of hand artist will also appear on the show. The Couriers, of Harrisburg, will appear in an old fashioned concert.

One of the main attractions of the day will be the drum and bugle corps competition and exhibition during the evening program.

Two new corps in the Midland drum and bugle corps show this year will be the Sweethearts, a girls' corps from Port Clinton, Ohio, which will compete with the General Butler Vagabonds of Butler, Pa., and the Sundowners from Wilmerding, Pa.

The other new corps will be the Blue Rocks from Wilmington, Delaware, which are considered one of the top three junior corps in the eastern United States. It will perform prior to the Pittsburgh Rockets which will close the reformances. The third exhibition cors, the Passajero's from Cranberry Township, will open the evening show at 8.

THE JULY Fourth Committee will meet soon after the Fourth to award prizes. Judges for the general and youth floats will be appointed from the different organizations that are entering floats in the parade. Atty. Robert Masters is chairman of judges.

The day long activities have been arranged by the executive committee for the Fourth of July which is composed of heads of local organizations and others. Some committee members change every year as organizations elect officers.

Signs To Help Motorists On W. 5th Stretch

New signs provided by the Ohio Highway Department are scheduled to be erected in the W. 5th - Jefferson St. area, particularly to aid the heavy influx of out - of - town motorists using the Newell Bridge since the closing of the Chester Bridge, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Street department workers started work today on erection of another "Do Not Enter" sign at Jefferson and W. 5th Sts.—the point where two - way traffic ends for eastbound motorists on W. 5th. W. 5th is one-way, west - bound only, east of Jefferson St.

Vodrey said the city has experienced considerable trouble with strangers driving the wrong way on the one - way section of W. 5th — despite the fact "Do Not Enter" signs were erected at the curb on both sides of the street. A Highway Department official who joined in an inspection of the site last week recommended the additional sign, which will be suspended by a cable on a level with the traffic signal.

Vodrey and the state official agreed that most motorists' attention is centered on the traffic light as they approach the intersection.

Signs designating Route 7 and 30 also have been received by the city from the state. They will be erected as soon as directional arrows are received to indicate turns.

The 7-30 signs will be placed to instruct traffic leaving the Newell Bridge to turn south on Jefferson St. to reach the Freeway. Many drivers unacquainted with the area now turn right at the first intersection in seeking the Freeway and proceed south on Monroe St., winding up in the deadend section of W. 4th St. under the bridge, Vodrey said.

Notices Given 17 Named On Tax Charges

Notices have been served on 17 persons ordering them to appear in Municipal Court on charges of violating the city income tax ordinance by failure to file returns.

Sixteen of the cases are scheduled to be heard July 10 by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff. One case will be heard July 14. Most of the defendants are charged with two violations — failure to file final returns on 1968 income and not furnishing an estimate of 1969 earnings. Both reports were due April 15.

Defendants due July 10 are: Charles Bell of 1221 Pennsylvania Ave., Howard Bosworth of 1630 Pennsylvania Ave., James Carter of 1060 Pennsylvania Ave., Keith Clark of 2144 Pennsylvania Ave., Floyd Cramer of 1080 Mapletree St., Robert Douglass of 1007 Pennsylvania Ave., John Fitch of 500 Central Ave., Philip Hayes of 1240 Pennsylvania Ave., Mrs. Jean Johnston of 543 Mulberry St.

Charles Petties of 1163 Erie St., Norman Quinn of 525 Bridge St., Richard Russell of 529 Maple St., Steve Savin of 2121 Hazel Alley, Roosevelt Suggs of 1169 Erie St., Earl G. Tice of 1115 Ohio Ave. and William Tynes of 1200 Erie St.

Francis F. Owens of 607 Palissey St. is the defendant in the lone case scheduled for July 14.

D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner, filed charges against 30 defendants last week. Some could not be served with a summons by Bailiff Louis Yanni because they had moved outside the city. Others made settlements with the tax office before the bailiff made his return on the summonses.

McGovern

questioning whether such sessions would serve the nation's best interests said "we are still in a very difficult and precarious position."

McGovern said the meeting reinforced his views that the United States must start a "systematic withdrawal of all of our troops" and stop supporting the regime of South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu.

McGovern's Paris meeting drew praise from several other Democratic war critics who said they see no change between the policies of the Johnson and the Nixon administrations.

"We have waited for some indication of a substantial change in the policy that led us into the morass," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho. "I too have failed to detect this change."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, also agreed.

But Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., criticized McGovern, saying that "If we were to precipitously pull back ... the consequencies for a couple of million people in South Vietnam would be so great."

The main conclusion in McGovern's speech was the "So long as we cling to our military policy of maximum pressure and our political embrace of Gen. Thieu, the negotiations in Paris are a sham and a delusion."

Newfoundland became the 10th province of Canada in 1949.

4 Draw Fines And 5 Forfeit For Speeding

Four motorists paid fines and five more forfeited appearance bonds today in Municipal Court as a result of a pre-holiday radar crackdown on speeders made by East Liverpool police.

Most of the drivers were cited in a radar check Wednesday on the city section of Freeway by Patrolman James Woods.

James May Jr., 21, of 136 W. 3rd St. was fined $20 and costs on a charge of driving 74 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited June 22 at 5:05 p.m. Charles Doutt, 26, of 1615 Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to driving 68 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited by Woods Wednesday at 6:36 p.m.

Randy Bowersock, 19, of 480 Orchard Grove Ave. paid $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 48 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. He was cited Wednesday at 10:30 p.m. Dayton L. Allen, 55, of Kelly Ave., Glenmoor, was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to speeding 64 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited Wednesda at 7:35 p.m.

Charles Houston, 47, of Warren forfeited a $22.50 bond on a charge of driving 64 miles an hour in the Freeway's 50 - mile zone. He was cited Wednesday night at 8:10.

The court ordered a continuance until next Thursday in the case of John W. Muller, 19, of 623 Elson St., charged with driving 64 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Freeway. He was cited Wednesday night at 8:10 by Woods. Muller told the judge he had been told a police department cannot legally make an arrest in a radar check unless the contemplated check is publicized in advance in the news media. The judge said he never had heard of such a ruling, but would check. He continued the case to allow the officer to appear.

Clarence J. Booth, 47, of Youngstown failed to appear on a charge of driving a truck with a load 1,380 pounds in excess of the legal limit and the court ordered a bench warrant for his arrest. Booth was cited June 26 at 11:45 a.m. on Route 7 by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Bonds of $22.50 each were forfeited by these out-of-town drivers, all cited Wednesday for speeding on the Freeway: Charles Copeland, 35, of Alliance; Lynn D. Possage, 22, of Monaca; Robert Kelly, 21, of Arthurdale, W. Va., Paul Steckler, 54, of Akron, and George Chupa, 25, of Toronto.

Vodrey Picks New Fireman

David Bruce Kidder, 21, of Macrum St. was appointed to the fire department today by Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, with instructions to report for duty July 22 at Central Station.

Kidder will replace Larry Tullis, who resigned from the department, effective May 17, to move to Florida.

Married, Kidder is employed at the Patterson - Ludlow Division of Banner Industries. He is scheduled to report to duty with the fire department after working out a notice with his present employer. Kidder is a graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Vodrey said the appointment brings the department to its authorized strength of 30. One post is being left vacant on instructions of Council when it granted wage increases in 1968.

A new fireman draws $461 monthly for the first six months and then advances to $504.

2 Offices Entered In Little Building

Intruders obtained only a $90 radio in two entries of Little Building offices investigated Wednesday, police reported.

The burglars forced entry to the office of the Cooper Insurance Agency, where the radio was taken, and the office of Dr. R. S. Manor, podiatrist, officers said. Both offices were ransacked, but there was no indication anything else was missing, officers reported.

In both instances, the intruders inserted a thin object against the catch of a lock, causing it to open, officers said. After entering the waiting room in Dr. Manor's office, they used the same method to enter the treatment room. It was ransacked and boxes were carried from another room and searched, police said.

Patrolman Karl Samples made the initial investigation and was joined by Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney and Det. William A. Devon. The entries were timed between Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning.

Crash Hurts City Woman

A dog was blamed for a one-car accident near Carrollton Wednesday night which injured a city woman and caused extensive damage to a 1969 sedan.

Carroll County Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred at approximately 11 p. m. when a car driven by Howard Laughlin of East Liverpool RD 2 slammed into an overhead railroad bridge abutment on Route 39, about 5 miles east of Carrollton. Laughlin said he had applied his brakes to avoid hitting a dog and the car slid out of control to the right, hitting the abutment.

His wife, Genevieve June was taken to City Hospital where she was admitted for treatment of contusions to the right side of her face. She is listed "fairly good."

Approximately $700 in damage resulted to the front of the vehicle deputies said.

Boys Nabbed In Wellsville Store Entry

Quick action by two Wellsville police officers early today resulted in the apprehension of four juveniles and recovery of soft drinks, beer and cigarettes taken in a burglary of carryout store.

Police said a telephone call was received at about 1:10 a.m. from a woman who said she had heard glass breaking in a nearby store. Officers found a window pane broken in the front door of Ann's Quick Shoppe at 1800 Clark Ave. Patrolman Pete Trainer said entrance was gained through the front door after the youths smashed the window with a brick.

Trainer said, "After Patrolman Charles Amato and I had checked out the store, we split up and went around to the back to an open field adjacent to Nicholson's Stadium where we flushed out four youths who ran off. One was seen running to a house, and Patrolman Amato recognized the other three, so it was just a matter of time before we had them rounded up."

Along with the pop, beer and cigarettes recovered, an amount of liquor was also found. The liquor is believed to be a portion of the loot taken in a burglary of Pop's Tavern last month police said. All of the loot was recovered from a hiding place in a small thicket on Danbury Ave.

The youths, ranging in age from 15 to 17, were released to the custody of their parents pending action by juvenile authorities.

to impose existing county permissive taxes as emergency measures to go into immediate effect subject to initiative petitions.

Education costs were not funded in the $4.178 billion general appropriations bill signed Wednesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Meanwhile, storm warnings still were flying following his approval of the controversial bill after vetoing a $1 million provision to finance color photographs for driver's licenses.

Sen. Harry L. Armstrong, R-17 Logan, had campaigned for seven years in behalf of the photo proposal. He took the veto hard and was trying to line up support to override it.

Rhodes contended the licenses were not worth the cost and added that the money could be better spent on increasing the Highway Patrol's manpower.

It would take 60 votes in the House and 20 in the Senate to override the veto. Several House members indicated they would support a movement to override Rhodes, but few wanted to start it.

In other action Wednesday, the House passed 87 - 1 a bill making it an armed robbery offense to use a tear gas gun or a similar device in a holdup.

The lower chamber passed 85-1 a bill providing for a meat inspection program. The $2.5 million to finance the project was reinserted in the bill by the Senate.

The Senate passed 29-1 a bill calling for state licensing of child day-care centers.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John H. Weeks, R-25 Lakewood, also set operating standards for the centers. Robert T. Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, said he voted against the bill because the proposed license fees were too high.

The fees are $100 initially and $50 renewal. An amendment lowered them to $50 and $25 in centers where there are fewer than 30 children.

Flaming Grease Blamed In Blaze

LISBON — Grease in a deep fryer ignited Wednesday noon at the home of Mrs. John Liggitt, 448 Thomas Rd., and set the kitchen on fire.

Assistant Fire Chief Thirl Flugan said there was extensive damage to the kitchen of the two - story frame home.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — A resolution that could allow the United States to recognize Communist China has been approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Recognition and exchange of diplomats "does not imply that the United States necessarily approves of the form, ideology, or policy of that government," says the resolution introduced by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt.

The action Wednesday clears the resolution for consideration on the Senate floor. No votes were cast against the measure in committee.

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Eisenhower, who wants to study law, has been reading up on organized crime in his summer job as an intern on a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

His wife, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, says David is keeping so busy she had to "invite myself" to have lunch with him for the first time this week.

The President's son-in-law is working for Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., on the subcommittee in crime.

Julie reported Wednesday that David is doing a lot of research that includes such things as "reading the Valachi papers" of Joseph Valachi, the Cosa Nostra informer, now in prison.

David planned to take time out this weekend, though, to join in a Nixon family celebration of his wife Julie's 21st birthday Saturday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 100 members of the House have urged President Nixon to ask the Soviet Union for a mutual moratorium on flight testing of the MIRV, the multiple warhead attack rocket.

The resolution introduced in the House Wednesday has the backing of 39 Republicans and 64 Democrats, about one-fourth of the body's membership of 435.

"Because of the possibility of deployment is only a few months off—because the point of no return is imminent—we must act with a sense of mission and urgency," Reps. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., and Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif., told the House.

The two representatives are the chief sponsors of the measure. Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and 40 other senators are backing a similar proposal in the Senate.

"In order to induce the Soviets to halt their MIRV deployment, we are urging the President to propose a mutual moratorium on MIRV testing. We believe this is a safe and sure manner in which to protect our deterrent force. Certainly it is worth a try," Anderson and Cohelan said.

Four Are Jailed When Unable To Pay Their Fines

Two men and two women are in the Brooke County Jail at Wellsburg in lieu of fines imposed on them in hearings before Squire Roy Hart of Newell Wednesday night on charges of petty larceny and disturbing the peace.

Robert Gerhardt, 22, of Cleveland, charged with disturbing the peace, was fined $10 and costs. He was apprehended while exploding several cherry bombs in Newell.

Linda Bailey, 20, of East Liverpool, Donald Conklin, 19, and his wife, Gail Conklin, 19, both of Cleveland, charged with petty larceny, were fined $25 and costs each and given a suspended 30 - day jail sentence. They were apprehended stealing groceries from an auto belongings to Carl Shuman of East Liverpool.

All four pleaded guilty to the charges and were unable to pay their fines.

The four were brought before Squire Hart by Hancock County sheriff's deputies about 3 a. m. Tuesday.

Lodge Voices Appreciation To Reds On Intent To Free 3

PARIS (AP) — U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge expressed appreciation today for North Vietnam's announced intention to release three American prisoners and allow other prisoners to receive gifts from their families.

Speaking at the 24th weekly session of the deadlocked Vietnam peace talks, Lodge referred to a Hanoi radio broadcast that had promised the release "on the occasion of the American people's Independence Day."

"If this report is accurate," Lodge said, "I express appreciation on behalf of the U.S. government. I hope that this action will lead to further and more general prisoner releases by your side and to such other humanitarian acts as a list of names of prisoners, permission for all prisoners to correspond with their families and release of sick and wounded prisoners.

Referring to the peace talks, Lodge said the refusal of Hanoi and the Viet Cong to negotiate with the Saigon government of President Nguyen Van Thieu was a main obstacle to progress.

South Vietnam also accused Hanoi and the Viet Cong of rejecting all serious discussions.

Acting North Vietnamese delegate Ha Van Lau said the United States and Saigon pretended to maintain a flexible attitude while accusing their adversary of holding to a rigid position. At the same time, Lau said, they claim to look for common ground between the two sides.

Lau again accused the United States of intensifying the war and continuing air attacks on North Vietnam's southern most provinces.

Industry Okays Study of Sewage

INDUSTRY — Council Wednesday night authorized Michael Baker Jr. Consulting Engineers to proceed with a feasibility study for sewage treatment.

The study will cost $12,000. Council will seek 50 per cent of the cost from the state.

Engineers also were authorized to prepare specifications and advertise for bids for repaving of five borough streets. The work will be done if the costs are not prohibitive. Streets being considered are Terrace Ave., Industry St., Sunrise Dr., Beechwood Dr. and Upland Dr.

Pat O'Hara, inspector, reported 10 building permits were issued for the first six months of 1969 for a total of $402,600. This includes the new Interstate Amiesite Corp. asphalt plant.

Mayor Steve Suchanec reported 16 complaints, 3 arrests and 3,253 logged on the police cruiser during June. Bills totaling $2,199 were paid.

The next meeting will be Aug. 6.

Vestry Makes Plans To Send 3 To Camp

LISBON—Plans to send three children to camp were made during a meeting of the vestry of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Funds also were earmarked for Sunday School materials.

Wilbur Wright, a newly - ordained priest, thanked members of the vestry by letter for their assistance.

Frank Adomitis, senior warden, was in charge of the meeting and the Rev. William Stickles gave prayer.

Barring an emergency, the vestry will not meet again until September.

Eaton Favors U.S. Trading With Reds

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The United States has strengthened Communist countries, not weakened them, by refusing their trade. Cyrus S. Eaton Jr., said Wednesday at a luncheon celebrating the 10th anniversary of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In stating his case in favor of trade with Communist nations, the industrialist said the U.S. "is a victim . . . of a massive inconsistency in its policy on international trade."

Bonner Cautions Picnic Planners On Poison Plants

Just in time for persons planning holiday picnics and outings, Health Commissioner Jack Bonner warned today that painful doses of poison ivy, oak and sumac may be contracted while at play out-of-doors.

The plants really are not "poison" in the true sense of the word, but produce allergic reactions in 80 per cent of the persons who encounter them. The active ingredient that causes the trouble — unrushiol —is present in all the plants.

The substances causes a rash which may appear in a few hours or may be delayed several days after contact. The skin usually turns red and itches. Blisters may form in a day or two after exposure.

If accidentaly exposed to the plants, persons should wash the exposed areas two or three times a soon as possible with strong laundry soap. Bonner said. The allergen needs only a few minutes to cause skin irritation. Calamine lotion, which also is effective, is available at most drug stores. A physician should be consulted in severe cases, Bonner said.

Food Vouchers End Sit-In Demonstration

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP — Issuance of $10 emergency food vouchers to some 60 families Wednesday ended a sit-in demonstration of some 150 persons at the Mahoning County Welfare Department.

The group was protesting not receiving July welfare checks on time from the state. The delay was caused by a day's delay in legislative approval of the state's appropriation bill for the new fiscal year.

Brushing Dandruff Off Speaker

'Fishbait' Has Peculiar Duty As House Doorman

WASHINGTON (AP) Brushing dandruff off the Speaker's shoulders isn't listed as one of the 114 duties of the official Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives, but that doesn't faze Fishbait Miller.

"All the members of the House are my responsibility and if John W. (Speaker John W. McCormack) has dandruff. I've got to get it off," proclaims Miller, whose real name is William M. but who has been called Fishbait since he was a 75-pound shrimp back in Pascagoula, Miss.

"I brush off Majority Leader Albert (Carl Albert) too. Once I told a congresswoman her hose didn't match. If the ladies in the House get careless with how they sit, I remind them there are wolves in the gallery."

Miller, now a pudgy, bespectacled 190-pounder, has become something of an institution around Capitol Hill as the $40,-000-a-year guardian of the modes and mores of the men who make the country's laws.

He has been on intimate terms with every president since, and including, Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has had two personal letters this year from President Nixon, both starting, "Dear Fishbait." Letters addressed simply "Fishbait" find their way to Miller's spacious suite in the Capitol.

Miller, now 59, was brought to Washington 37 years ago by Mississippi Rep. William Colmer. He worked in the mail room as a sorter, later assistant sergeant at arms, minority doorkeeper and finally doorkeeper, a post he has held for the last 20 years. He has a law degree.

The office was instituted by Congress March 5, 1789 and from the beginning has been something of a misnomer. The doorkeeper does much more than watch the doors.

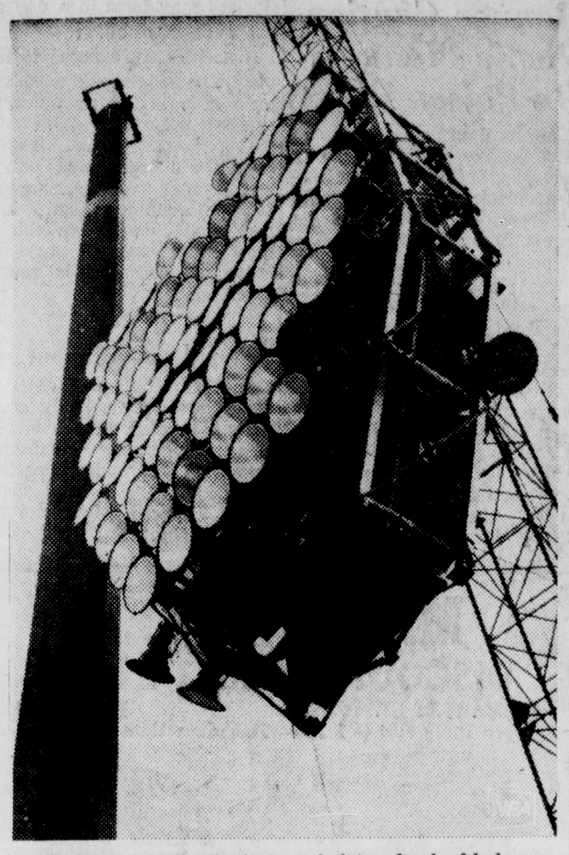

Miller has 340 permanent employees under him, more than any other officer of the House. They include doormen, messengers, pages and barbers. He oversees 13 rest rooms, five barber shops, two snack bars, two cloak rooms and 28 telephones. He supervises the folding room which sends out more than 350 million pieces of mail from the 435 congressmen.

He introduces visiting dignitaries and at joint sessions of Congress stands at the rear door and cries: "Mister speaker, the President of the United States."

"President Truman was the most natural and most informal of the presidents,' Fishbait said. "He liked to come over and bend his elbow with Bourbon and Branch water with Speaker Rayburn.

"Most of the presidents I knew in the House or Senate before they became president. All but Eisenhower. I had to get acquainted with Ike. But he was like the rest—as natural as an old shoe."

Falls Hurt Man, 2 Women; 16 More Treated At Hospital

Two area residents and a Delaware woman were admitted Wednesday to City Hospital with injuries received in falls. Sixteen others were treated and released.

Listed in "poor" condition is Fred LeRoy Hood of 1035 Phoenix Ave., Chester, with fractured ribs and a fractured left hip received in a fall from a ladder.

In "fair" condition are Iva May of 412 Lincoln Ave., Newell, with a fractured and dislocated left shoulder received in a fall from a lawn chair, and Eunice A. Locke, of Bellfonte, Del., with a fractured left hip in a fall while shopping.

Treated and released were Elmer Smith of 5th Ave., LaCroft, contusions of the right knee in a fall; Gretchen Hindes of 212 California Ave., Chester, laceration of the right foot on glass; Yvonne Nixon of 1726 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, bruised right hand which caught in washer wringer.

Robert Morehead of 1625 Maple Ave., Wellsville, foreign body in the right foot when he stepped on a nail; Arthur Casto of 1770 Clark Ave., Wellsville, laceration of the right hand on garage door; Katherine Page, daughter of Kenneth Page of 951 St. George St., fractured left wrist in a fall.

Health Department Tips

Proper Cooking, Storage Seen Vital In Picnic Food

Food-borne illnesses associated with picnics can be avoided with proper preparation, storage and protecion, the East Liverpool health department reminded tri-state area residents today.

The department pointed out that disease - producing bacteria prefer certain types of food, particularly those high in protein and moisture. Milk, milk products, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, shellfish, and cream pies, custards, and potato salad are potentially hazardous foods and after preparation must be kept either hot or cold. Hot is 140 degrees or above. Cold is 45 degrees or below. Temperatures between 45 and 140 are unsafe. Disease - producing bacteria grow most rapidly at the middle of this temperature range. If you can't keep these foods hot or cold, do not take them on your picnic, the department said.

Most picnic food is prepared in the home, hours ahead of the time it will be eaten. These precautions should be taken:

Use clean utensils; have clean hands; cook food thoroughly. Cook pork to at least 150 degrees; poultry to at least 165 degrees.

Do not let food sit around at room temperature; do not refrigerate in deep containers. The centers take too long to cool. Many commercial sandwich producers use frozen bread and chilled fillings to slow bacterial growth.

Do not prepare or purchase freshly - prepared food more than 24 hours in advance. Remember — refrigeration does not kill baceria; it only slows the growth.

Keep food covered and either hot or cold on the way to your picnic.

Serve on a clean tablecloth. Keep food covered except when serving. Return leftover potentially hazardous food to the ice chest right after the meal. If there is no ice left, or if the food has set out too long, throw it away.

Defense Department Called 'Scab' In Grape-Buying Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO accused the Defense Department today of being "a massive scab and strikebreaker" for continuing to buy millions of pounds of labor-boycotted California table grapes for shipment to Vietnam.

"I doubt that the soldiers are crying for them," said William L. Kircher, chief AFL-CIO organizer and strategist behind the long strike and boycott against grape growers by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Kircher said he believed the Defense Department was bowing to pressure from business groups to more than double its purchases of table grapes this year and boost shipments to Vietnam nearly seven-fold.

"It ill behooves the United States government too, in the one hand pay lip service to the concept of collective bargaining which embraces striking and consumer boycotting and their to play the role of a massive scab and strikebreaker by upping its consumption of grapes," Kircher said in a recorded radio interview.

The AFL-CIO said the Defense Department's own figures show it more than doubled grape purchases to eight million pounds in the first half of fiscal 1969 and boosted Vietnam shipments from 555,000 pounds in 1968 to 4.1 million pounds this year.

"The United States government—the Defense Department—is buying more grapes today than it has ever bought in its history," Kircher said.

He spoke on a radio program sponsored by the AFL-CIO.

The Defense Department said it is not buying more grapes just because there are more available and cheaper because of the labor boycott. Purchases are based on planned menus, cost, nutritional value and perishability, it said in a memorandum.

Most Of U.S. 'Fair' With Holiday Near

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms swept portions of the Northwest, the Midwest and the Southeast today, but for a majority of the country the day was a fair and pleasant prelude to the Fourth of July weekend.

A violent windstorm hit the Florida communities of Balm and Gibsonton, southeast of Tampa, late Wednesday and overturned several trailers and heavily damaged a few houses. Three persons were treated for injuries.

Hail, wind and brief but heavy downpours were ingredients of storm in other sections of the Southeast as well as the two other turbulent weather regions. Winds up to 60 miles an hour lashed an area north of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Severe thunderstorms rattled through the northern Rockies during the night. Nearly an inch of rain poured onto Missoula, Mont., and minor flooding occurred after the storm in Great Falls. Half an inch of hail accumulated at Havre, in north-central Montana.

Thunderstorms over the Midwest dumped heavy rain into northwestern Missouri and unleashed high winds and hail there as well as in northeastern Illinois. The storms ranged into Indiana and lower Michigan before daybreak.

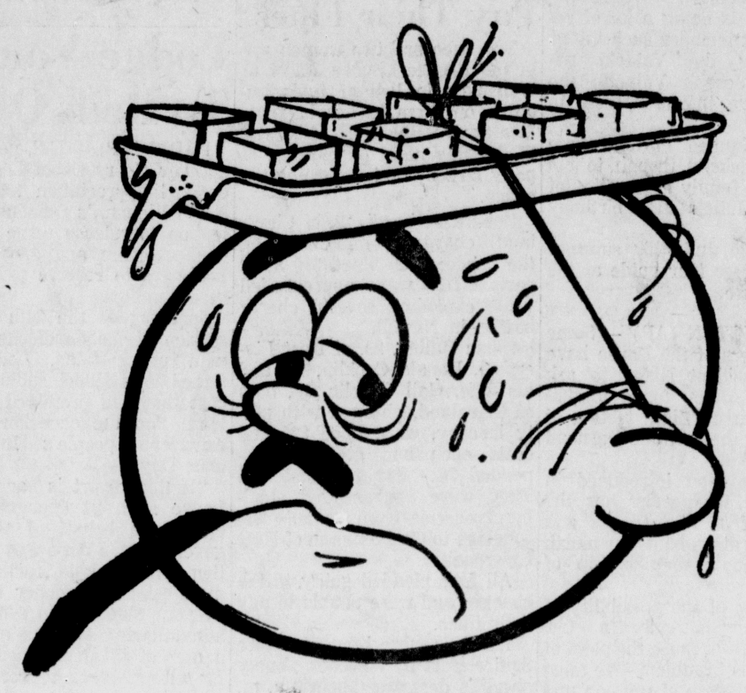

Clear skies were widespread outside the storm area and, except for a chill in the northern Great Lakes region, temperatures were near seasonal norms. Heat and humidity wilted the Southeast while 100-plus temperatures seized the southwestern interior.

The Weather Bureau indicated sunny skies woud prevail in much of the country for the Fourth of July, although scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers were likely from the Rockies to the Appalachians and in the Southeast.

One of the first forms of modern civil disobedience was practiced by Mohandas K. Gandhi in 1930 in his fight against a tax on salt by the British, who arrested 100,000 of his followers for nonviolent action.

Road Work Bill Due For Ohio's Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill to allow $100 million in new highway construction to get under way by next spring was expected to be introduced in the Ohio Senate today.

"This money is going to make a substantial dent in the need for new highway construction, taking care of urban bottlenecks," said Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R - 12 Tiffin, the bill's main sponsor.

Half of the $100 million will go to counties so they can take care of urban traffic problems. The other half will be spent by the State Highway Department.

The bill authorizes the spending of the highway money in the $759 million bond issue approved by voters last November.

The bond issue provided $500 million for highways to be spent over a five - year period and specified that not more than $100 million could be spent in one year.

Gillmore said the bill provides a formula for dividing the counties share of the money.

The allocation would be based 75 per cent on population and 25 per cent on the miles of highways in the county.

Gillmor said although the formula favors the most populous urban areas, it also takes care of medium sized cities.

"When the bond issue was sold to the people, it was with the understanding that money would be available to take care of bottlenecks in medium size cities too," he explained.

Gillmor said the Highway Department has advised him that the formula is acceptable with the Ohio Municipal League and the County Commissioners Association.

Talks End Abruptly

CINCINNATI (AP) — Negotiations ended abruptly late Wednesday night between representatives of 900 striking lithographers and 21 local printing firms with no end in sight of the 10-day-old walkout.

Work Nears On Addition For Library

LISBON — Mauro Masonry Contractors of Youngstown expects to begin work "in a week or so" on a $50,000 addition to Lepper Library.

Architect Jack K. Vogel of Salem advised the library directors Wednesday he has signed a $30,000 general contract with Mauro, a $12,200 plumbing and heating contract with Webber Plumbing and Heating and John Blocksom, both of Lisbon, and a $7,800 electrical contract with Julian Eectrical Service of Salem.

The three low bids submitted June 19 were $31,200, $12,875 and $7,800, respectively, for the three contracts. Vogel negotiated with the bidders to keep the cost at $50,000.

The work will include remodeling of the library and construction of an addition to include a garage for the county bookmobile.

President And Family Relaxing In Florida

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon has settled down on this rain-soaked island for a July 4th holiday with his family.

The President and Mrs. Nixon and daughter Julie Nixon Eisenhower flew to the waterfront compound Wednesday, planning to remain until Sunday.

Son-in-law David Eisenhower, was due tonight. Daughter Tricia, who went to England for the investiture of Prince Charles as the Prince of Wales, was coming Saturday to join in a family celebration of Julie's 21st birthday.

No official visitors were expected during the holiday and there were no advance indications any major announcements would be forthcoming from the Florida White House.

'Y' To Open Camping At Pine Ridge July 13

Reservations are being accepted for the 47th summer camping program to be sponsored by the East Liverpool YMCA at its Pine Ridge facilities.

Six periods have been scheduled, with midget boys 8 to 11 kicking off the activities July 13-18.

The other camping sessions follow: Coed midgets (boys and girls 8 to 11), July 20-25; midget girls, 8 to 11, July 27-Aug. 1; girls, 12 through 15, Aug. 3 - Aug. 8; coed boys a nd girls, 12 through 15, Aug. 10-15, and boys, 12 through 15, Aug. 17-22.

Alan E. Millspaugh, executive director of the "Y," pointed out that reservations are limited and advised those planning to attend to sign up as quickly as possible at the "Y" office, 134 E. 4th St.

A $25 camping fee is charged for each session.

The extensive program will include instruction in air rifle, boating, swimming, archery, crafts and nature lore, softball, volleyball, horseshoes, table tennis, checkers, track and swimming meets and basketball.

Millspaugh said a new shower house and toilet facility have been added for this season.

He emphasized that "a highly-qualified and trained staff" will work with the campers in small groups in an effort to see that each youngster gets the maximum benefits and enjoyment from the program.

Family camping dates have been scheduled for Aug. 22-24 and Aug. 29-31, with the fee $15 for two adults and one child, plus $3 for each additional child.

Personalities In The News

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Movie actor Peter O'Toole was fined $75 Wednesday for punching a restaurant owner during an altercation over whether he should be served an after-hours drink. O'Toole also was bitten by the restaurant owner's dog.

O'Toole's attorney conceded in court that the actor tried to buy a drink at 3:30 a.m. long after closing hours, and got into an argument with the proprietor of the place.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Singer Patti Page, suffering from exhaustion, entered a hospital Wednesday night to rest.

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Carson, star of the NBC "Tonight" show, describes as "ludicrous" and "far out of line" reports that his new contract calls for $75,00 to $85,000 a week.

His protests to this effect on the Wednesday night show were supported by an NBC spokesman who said the reports were "flagrantly in error" although conceding that Carson received a "good increase."

Neither Carson nor the spokesman would say what the contract actually does call for. The old one is believed to have brought Carson around $1 million a year, or almost $20,000 a week.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Jimmy Cash owes the federal government $82,000 because of a 500-acre forest fire attributed to a faulty exhaust system in his camper truck.

The U.S. attorney's office said Wednesday it accepted the amount —payable over five years—in a stipulated judgment.

Officials said Cash was negligent while operating the truck in the Los Padres National Forest in 1965 and failed to notify authorities quickly when the fire flared out of control.

GOLSPIE, Scotland (AP) — Yoko Ono, wife of Beatle John Lennon, is expecting a baby, a hospital spokesman said today. He added an X-ray showed "the baby is safe," despite injuries Miss Ono received in a car accident with Lennon Tuesday night.

Miss Ono suffered a miscarriage last November.

Probation Asked In Forgery Case

LISBON — Albert J. R. Nadeau, 21, of 672 N. Lincoln Ave., Salem, pleaded guilty to a forgery charge Wednesday in Common Pleas Court and asked probation.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report. The court permitted the defendant to plead to information furnished by Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis rather than wait to have the charge considered by the September Grand Jury.

Nadeau pleaded not guilty June 18 in Northwest Court at Salem to a $24.95 bad check affidavit filed by Police Lt. Richard M. Whinnery. The defendant was bound over to the Grand Jury by Judge Edward C. Greenamyer of Northwest Court and is being held in the County Jail in lieu of $500 bond.

The picturesque covered bridges, vanishing antiques of the American past, were built after the Revolution to keep up with a fast-expanding country whose main roads crossed many rivers. They were erected quickly and cheaply, especially in the eastern states, where great virgin forests stood. Walls and pitched roofs were added to protect the wooden roadbed and underpinning from rot.

Stone Skipping Contest Slated

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — Keep your eye on the horizon, aim for minimum altitude and practice, practice, practice.

Those tips, coupled with large, ultra-flat stones for maximum skim, could win you the Little David Flat Stone Trophy Saturday in Mackinac Island's 1969 Stone Skipping and Ge-plunking Open Meet.

A retired Navy commander who once skipped a stone 17 times, will serve as a field judge.

He says of his great skip:

"That was under ideal circumstances. The lake was as flat as a flounder."

Number of skips alone will not win the trophy.

"An entrant may be penalized on defects in form and style," said W.T. Rabe, provost of the island's Stone Skipping and Plunking Club and marshall of the 1969 open.

"An accomplished stone skipper is poetry in motion. He skips a stone with one continuous movement of his entire body, holding his breath throughout, and ending with a great and audible exhale."

The island is in the Straits of Mackinac between Lakes Huron and Michigan.

The $2 entry fees will be turned over to Mackinac College which has announced it may close its doors after next year unless financial problems are solved.

Ge-plunking is primarily for children under four who have not mastered the art of skipping. Height of splash and volume of noise are the main factors in judging Ge-plunkers.

Religion has been one of the most powerful forces in history. Millions of people have died for their religious beliefs. Many nations have gone to war to spread or defend their faiths. But there has never been a people that did not have some form of religion.

Jackson Hits 33rd, Says He's Not 60-Home Run Man

Washington Beats Tribe 10th Time

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The home run records of Babe Ruth and Roger Maris are safe. Reggie Jackson guarantees it.

"I'm not going to get 60 home runs because I'm not a 60-home run man," Jackson said Wednesday night after belting his 31st, 32nd and 33rd homers in Oakland's 5-0 victory over Seattle.

Some of the figure filberts have other ideas and point out that Jackson's pace is 10 games ahead of Maris, who hit 61 in a 162-game season in 1961, and 23 ahead of Ruth, who walloped 60 in a 154-game campaign in 1927, both for the New York Yankees. Wednesday night's was Oakland's 72nd game of the season.

"It's nice to be compared with great players like Ruth and Maris, but I don't think I'm ready to be put in their class yet," said the 23-year-old outfielder. "I'm so young. If I have five or six good years back-to-back I might consider myself in their class."

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota topped the Chicago White Sox 4-2, Detroit drubbed Boston 7-0, Washington whipped Cleveland 5-1, the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 3-2 and Kansas City shaded California 1-0.

Jackson's explosion was the eighth time this season he has hit more than one homer in a game. The major league record is 11 by Detroit's Hank Greenberg in 1938. Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh set the NL mark of 10 in 1947.

"I only hit three homers in a game once before in organized ball," said Jackson, who is in his second full season in the majors. "That was for Modesto in the California League in 1966. I wasn't consciously trying to hit home runs against Seattle. Once you do that, you try too hard and you don't hit any."

Jackson connected in the first and sixth innings off Marty Pattin and in the eighth against Diego Segui. All three homers came with the bases empty.

The first was a fly ball that barely cleared the fence just inside the right field foul pole some 330 feet away. The second was a towering 425-foot shot over the center field fence and the third was a line drive which just cleared the wall in center, which is 400 feet from home plate.

"The first one was lucky," Jackson said. "The wind blew it out. The second came on a curve ball low and away, not normally a home run pitch, but I hit it good. The third was off Segui's fast ball. I knew he'd throw me his best pitch and I was looking for it. I was fortunate to get my pitches and not foul them off. That's the difference between a good hitter and a bad hitter."

Virtually overlooked was John "Blue Moon" Odom's five-hitter, which kept the A's three percentage points in front of Minnesota in the AL West. It was the fifth consecutive triumph for Odom, who ran his record to 11-3 and also hit a home run.

Minnesota's Dave Boswell checked the White Sox on two hits until the eighth inning and Harmon Killebrew slammed his 19th homer. The game was called because of rain after 8½ innings. It was Chicago's first setback in Milwaukee, where they play one game against each AL club. They had won the first five.

Tom Tresh and Don Wert belted homers and drove in three runs apiece for Detroit, making it easy for Denny McLain, who scattered eight hits, to become the AL's first 12-game winner. Boston has a five-game losing streak for the first time this season and is only one-half game ahead of third-place Detroit in the AL East.

Washington continued its mastery of Cleveland, beating the Indians for the ninth time this year—10 in a row over-all—as Paul Casanova and Brant Alyea each knocked in two runs. The Senators, who have won six in a row, also ended Sam McDowell's seven-game winning streak. Tony Horton homered for the Indians' run.

The Yankees made it two straight over high-flying Baltimore as Mel Stottlemyre spaced eight hits and Horace Clarke drilled two singles and a run-scoring triple. Stottlemyre, 11-6, got Boog Powell on a fly ball and Brooks Robinson on a game-ending double play after the Orioles had scored a run in the ninth.

Bill Butler of Kansas city won a battle of four-hitters from California's Tom Murphy by hurling his first shutout in the majors. The Royals scored in the first on a walk to Pat Kelly, Mike Fiore's single and Bob Oliver's infield out.

Hill Confident In Open-Play

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Dangerous Dave Hill, a walking advertisement for the benefits of smoking, set out in the first round of the $125,000 Buick Open Golf Tournament today, bubbling with confidence, his game in shape and armed with two packs of cigarettes.

"I'm playing just great," the thin, dark bad-boy of the tour said. "I've got my putting stroke down just great, and I'm hitting the ball real good."

Hill, whose outspoken pronouncements have led him to occasional suspensions by the PGA, has played only once—in the U.S. Open—since winning the Memphis Open five weeks ago.

"I'd lost 25 pounds, from 165 to 140, since the first of the year," Dave said, 'and I wanted to get a iherk up and find out what was causing it.

"It was nerves."

So he took a rest and increased his smoking.

"It settles me down a lot," said Hill, a native of Jackson, Mich., now playing out of Evergreen, Colo. "It's made a lot of difference."

"I wasn't smoking that much for a while, but I got to thinking, 'I'm not tryint to live to be 85. I'm trying to play golf.'

"So now I bring two packs to the course with me every day and I smoke one cigarette every two holes. It helps."

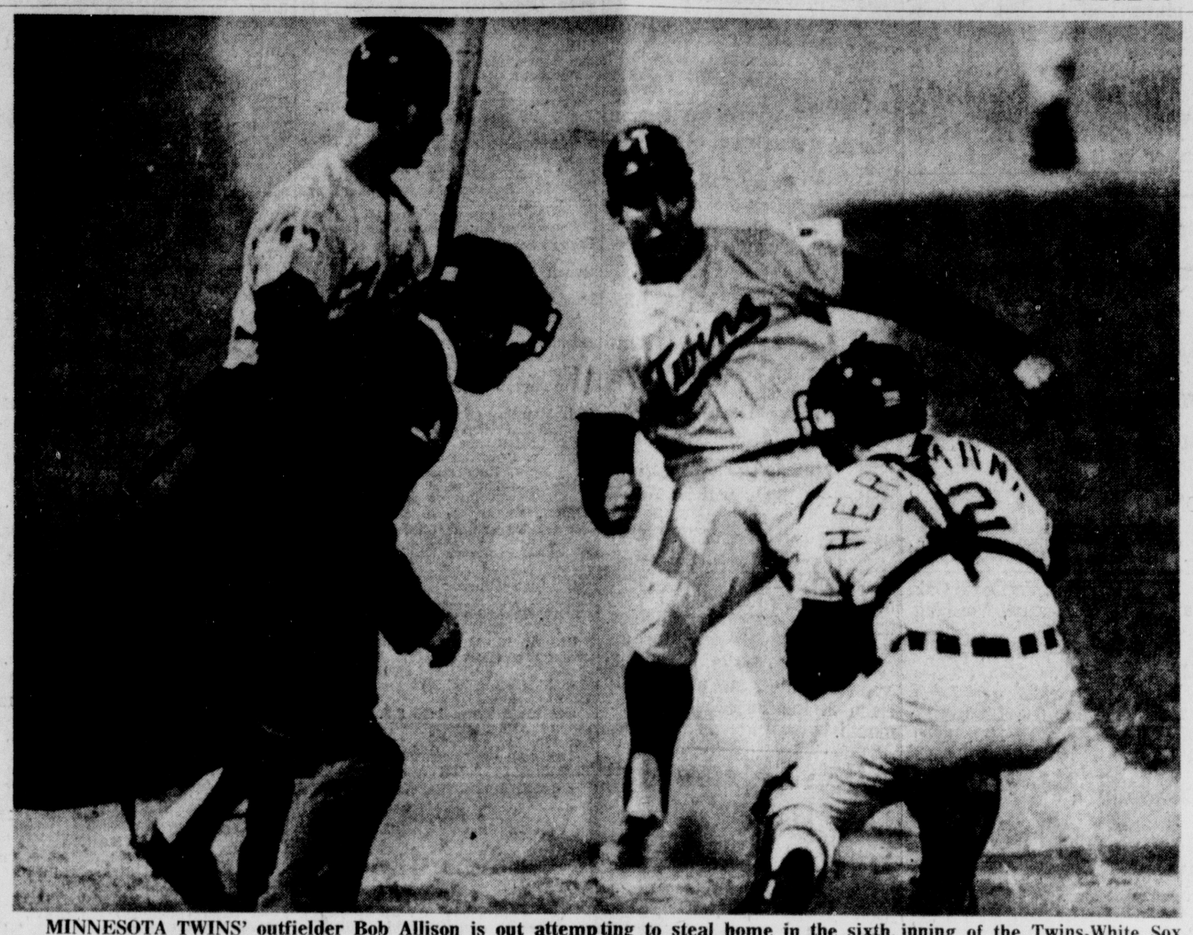

Hill, 32, a 12-year pro who has won $73,725 this year—his best yet—and has been in the top 10 in seven tournaments. He is No. 9 on the money-winning list.

And, with a slimmed down field in this tournament—only nine of the top 25 in the money-winning list are competing, with most of the rest in England for next week's British Open—he ranks as one of the men to beat.

Phils Dump Pirates; Streak Is Nine

McGraw Saves New York's Win

By The Associated Press

Ever since Richie Allen bolted the Philadelphia Phillies, almost everybody on the team has been taking up the slack. Now, even the relief pitchers are getting into the act.

Reliever Al Raffo helped himself to his first major league victory by knocking in three runs with a single and a squeeze bunt as the Phils knocked off Pittsburgh 14-4 Wednesday night for their ninth straight victory.

The Phils lost their first two games after Allen jumped the team in New York last week, but they haven't been beaten since.

Meanwhile, Atlanta ripped Cincinnati 9-4 to take over first place in the National League West, while Los Angeles dropped to second, a half-game back, after an 8-2 loss to Houston.

In other NL games, Chicago whipped Montreal 4-2, New York defeated St. Louis 6-4 in 14 innings and San Francisco stopped San Diego 6-3.

Raffo, who has two defeats, polished off a four-run second inning with a two-run single, then squeezed in another run with his bases-loaded bunt in the sixth.

He replaced starter Billy Champion after two runs had scored in the first and kept the Pirates in check until they chased him with a run in the seventh, cutting the Phils lead to 7-4.

But Philadelphia scored five runs in the eighth, including two on Johnny Briggs' single, and added two more in the ninth to preserve Raffo's triumph. Briggs also had a homer in the fourth.

Atlanta's vault into first place was a rather painful one for the Braves in one respect.

Five Atlanta batters were hit by pitches—a modern National League record for one game—and the three hit in the second inning equalled a major league mark.

The Braves, however, apparently thought Gerry Arrigo, who hit two, and Pedro Ramos, who hit three, were just wild and never stirred up a fuss during the game.

The wild game also was marked by an unusual double play on what should have been a Cincinnati hit. With the bases loaded and one out in the third, Tommy Helms lined a sinking liner to right.

The Reds on base apparently thought Hank Aaron had caught the ball and didn't run. But Aaron had trapped the ball, and he threw to second for a force play there and the runner at second was tagged out off base for the double play.

Reliever Claude Raymond singled in two of the Braves' runs, while Orlando Cepeda had a two-run double as Atlanta won its fifth straight.

The St. Louis Cards blew three good scoring chances, then watched as Ken Boswell smacked a two-out RBI single and pitcher Ron Willis gave up a bases-loaded walk in the 14th for the Mets' winning runs.

Vic Davalillo's grand slam homer—his first in the majors—had tied it for the Cards, 4-4, in the eighth.

But St. Louis couldn't capitalize on three separate rallies after that against reliever Tug McGraw.

Curt Flood was out by inches at the plate in the ninth when Vada Pinson doubled and catcher Jerry Grote made a lunging play on Tommie Agee's throw to the plate to nab the speedy Cardinal.

The Cards loaded the bases with none out in the 10th, but McGraw retired the next three batters. St. Louis again loaded the bases in the 13th with two out, but McGraw got Tim McCarver to pop out, ending that threat. All told, the Cards stranded 18.

Johnny Edwards' four hits and Doug Rader's three doubles paced a 12-hit Houston attack. Curt Blefary also chipped in his second homer of the season to back winner Don Wilson, who scattered six hits.

Jim Qualls, a rookie recalled from the minors only a few weeks ago, knocked in the first two runs of his major league career in helping the Cubs past Houston.

San Francisco took advantage of Jim Ray Hart's two-run homer in the fourth to hand San Diego its fifth straight loss. It was the first four-bagger of the season for Hart, who had 23 last year.

Juan Marichal boosted his record to 10-3 with his fifth victory in is last six decisions, although he gave up nine hits.

44 Runs Scored By Tad Pontiac; Pusateri Wins

Would you believe 44 runs in one game? Well, it happened last night, as Tad Pontiac had a "laugher" in beating Potter's Savings by the score of 44-3. The winners had 31 hits in the contest to make it easy for Randy McVay to notch the triumph in an East Liverpool Minor League game.

Richard Reed and Charlie Goodballet both had five hits to lead Tad Pontiac to the victory.

And Al Green Lincoln Mercury beat Potters Bank and Trust, 6-4. In that game Rob Kittridge hit his fourth home run of the season for the winners. Steve White was the winning pitcher, while Mark Adney, who struck out nine, took the loss.

Smaller Countries Reported Against Open Davis Cup; Vote Due Today

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The first battle in the campaign to extend open tennis to the Davis Cup was being fought in London today.

Delegates from the Davis Cup nations were meeting to vote on a proposal by France that the promoter-controlled professionals be admitted to the big team tournament.

France has the support of the other three big tennis powers—the United States, Britain and Australia. But most of the smaller countries were reported opposed to the idea, which needs a two-thirds majority to go through.

Even a vote in favor of an open Davis Cup would not be decisive.

Basil Reay, who is secretary of both the Davis Cup and the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF), said:

"Although the competing nations control the Davis Cup and its rules, in this case they can only make a recommendation to the ILTF.

"When the ILTF meets in Prague July 9, it will decide whether to adopt the proposal for one category of players, with the abolition of the terms professional and amateur.

"Obviously, any decision to run an open Davis Cup would be meaningless if the governing body of world tennis rejects the idea of one category."

Meanwhile, Arthur Ashe, the last surviving American in the Wimbledon men's singles, faced the defending champion, Rod Laver of Australia, in today's semifinals.

The other semifinal was between two Australians, John Newcombe and Tony Roche.

Laver is half-way towards the grand slam—the world's four major tennis titles in one year. He has already won the Australian and French titles and now has Wimbledon and Forest Hills to come. Laver did the Grand slam in 1962. The only other man to do it was America's Don Budge in 1938.

Wednesday, Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia lost her hopes of pulling off a women's grand slam—a success achieved only by the late Maureen Connolly in 1953.

Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain defeated Mrs Court 10-12, 6-3, 6-2 in a two-hour semifinal of drama and high quality tennis. Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., slammed Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 6-1, 6-0 in the other semi, a drab and one-sided affair that was all over in 28 minutes.

Phillies' Jackson Looks For A 20-Game Season

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The way Grant Jackson figures it, he'll win 20 games for the Philadelphia Phillies this season.

The way Grant Jackson is pitching, he may be right.

The 26-year-old lefty won his fifth game in a row Tuesday night against Pittsburgh and his ninth of the season. He has six losses.

The victory against the Pirates, he readily admits, wasn't one of his better games—but it's still the kind of win he occasionally needs if he's going to reach the magic 20 mark.

The Fostoria, Ohio, native gave up four runs in the first inning on two hits, two walks, a hit batter and an error. Then he held the Pirates until the sixth inning when he got in trouble and left the game. Over 5 1-3 innings he allowed eight hits and three walks. But he was credited with the win.

"When you pitch that bad," the affable Jackson said, "you're happy to hold them until you get ahead."

Jackson had never been in a starting rotation before this season when Manager Bob Skinner saw what he could do.

"I don't know why Gene (Mauch) wouldn't start me, but it's what I needed.

"That was the first bad start I've had in six games," he said I figure if I have one poor start out of every six games I'll win 20 games."

Jackson's last defeat was a 1-0 loss to the New York Mets. "It was the kind of game which I could have won — with some runs," he said.

"With the team going like it is, there's no telling what we can do. But I'm sure of one thing now," Jackson said confidently. "I know I can win 20 games with a little luck."

In 1968 Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers defeated every American League team on the road and at home.

Chester Ties Little Series

It all goes down to the final game in the East Liverpool Little League championship. Chester Legion of the National Division edged Vernon Dell Wednesday night, 6-5 to knot the series at one game apiece.

Vince Pecora picked up the win for Chester, and he also chipped in with two singles at the plate. Bud Gregory homered for the winners, while Tim Fenton connected on a round tripper for Vernon Dell. Fenton was the losing pitcher.

The deciding game will be played this evening at East Junior High School. The winner will be champions of the East Liverpool Little League.

The first two games of this series have both been one-run contests, as Vernon Dell won the opener, 5-4.

Newell Wins, 15-14 Over Shippingport

Newell nipped Shippingport in a free - swinging South Side Junior Division game Wednesday.

C. Durham was the winning pitcher with George Walker the loser. Laneve and Jeff Moony pounded home runs for the winners and Laneve also had two other hits.

Walker led Shippingport with four hits including a triple. Christy Walker and Jeff Trimble collected three hits apiece.

SPORTS HANOVER BEATS

Hanover was victorious over Hookstown in a Pony League game Wednesday night, 6-4. Bob Dhyer picked up the victory and was given eight - hit support by his teammates.

Cincy Pitchers Hit Five Braves In Three Innings

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Pitchers Gerry Arrigo and Pedro Ramos of the Cincinnati Reds set a National League record and tied a major league mark Tuesday against Atlanta.

They were proud of neither. It had to do with their hitting five Brave batsmen—which didn't seem to faze the Atlanta sluggers as they went on to a 9-4 triumph.

In the second inning Arrigo hit one batter and Ramos added another two to the list—tying the major's mark for the most hit batsmen in one inning. Arrigo also hit a batter in the first.

Ramos went on to hit another slugger and the total five batsmen were more than any NL club has hit since 1896.

"I don't want to comment on it," said Braves' skipper Luman Harris. "But I will say one thing—I think they were throwing at my hitters."

Then Harris grinned and added, "They really scared hell out of my hitters, didn't they?" The Braves pounded out 14 hits.

Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol said his pitchers weren't trying to hit the Braves and Ramos—who hit Felix Millan, Clete Boyer and Bob Aspromonte—said, "Sometimes you get a little wild."

The Braves were in baseball heaven against Cincinnati, however, with a standout relief pitching performance by Claude Raymond.

Raymond, booed by fans because he hasn't been effective recently, put down a Cincinnati outburst with one out and the bases loaded in the first inning and went the rest of the way.

"That's the longest I've pitched since I started in 1965," said Raymond who gave up only two runs.

Raymond drove in two of Atlanta's runs with a single in the fourth and Orlando Cepeda scored two in the second with a double.

Quarry Claims Third Victim In Freak Drowning

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — A stone quarry near here has caimed its third drowning victim within a week.

The latest victim, an 18-year-old Ohio youth, drowned Wednesday after the motorcycle he was riding hit a rock, flipping him into 15 feet of water.

Michael Bonish of New Middletown was pronounced dead at the scene after skindivers had recovered his body.

Kelly Gets Job

New Penguins' Coach Sees Bright Future For Team

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins begin training Sept. 14 for what most observers say will be another long National Hockey League season.

But Leonard "Red" Kelly isn't one of them.

Kelly says the Penguins are just an eyelash away from being a strong contender for the Stanley Cup, even though they're the only NHL team that hasn't made the playoffs.

"I thought they (the Penguins) were just about this much (snapping his fingers) away from making it all the way—and that's not much," Kelly said Wednesday at a news conference called to announce his appointment as head coach of the Penguins.

Kelly's vantage point was from Los Angeles when Pittsburgh came to play the Kings, a team he coached for two years before quitting this year after a series of differences with owner Jack Kent Cooke.

Los Angeles, like Pittsburgh, came to life two years ago during the NHL's expansion. Under Kelly, the Kings finished second and fourth in the West Division.

Pittsburgh, coached by Rod Sullivan, finished fifth both seasons.

Sullivan was let go as head coach March 31 and stayed on with the Penguins in an executive position.

"I think the Penguins have the calibre of players to get into first place," said Kelly.

"I have one goal in mind, and that's for the hockey season to start and for the Penguins to wind up in first place in our division," he said. ',I'm aiming for first place."

Kelly also said that he insisted on a one-year contract, a practice he followed through 20 years as a player in the NHL as a player until he signed a two-year agreement to coach Los Angeles.

Kelly, 41, went directly into the pro hockey ranks from college, joining the Detroit Red Wings in 1947. He closed out his career in 1947 with Toronto.

Large Purses Set For Racing Fans This Weekend

And, just like last Decoration Day, some 350,000 bettors are expected to try their luck at picking winners. In the process, they probably will bet around $30 million on Friday alone.

For comparison purposes 353,196 turned out at 18 tracks on Decoration Day, last May 30, and wagered $28,331,514. On July 4 a year ago 19 tracks reported attendance of 346,446 and $27,133,075 in wagers.

Elsewhere there is the $50,000 American Handicap at Hollywood Park, the $50,000 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park, the $40,000 George Brandeis Handicap at Ak-Sar-Ben, the $30,00 Schuylkill Stakes at Liberty Bell Park, the $25,000 Post Deb Stakes at Monmouth Park, the $20,000 Dover Stakes at Delaware Park and the $20,000 Mayflower Stakes at Suffolk Downs.

A small field is likely for the Suburban in which Claiborne Farm's Dike will try to become one of the few 3-year-olds to win the 1¼ mile test. Dike, third in the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes, will carry 114 pounds.

The American Handicap at Hollywood likely will be run in two divisions because of an anticipated entry list of 17. Poleax is the top weight at 120. Cragwood Stable's hawaii at 118 and J. A. Gilosa's Liaison at 114 top the Stars and Stripes probables.

Process Shot and Gallant Bloom, two of the leading 3-year-old fillies, are expected to clash in the Post-Deb at Monmouth.

Allen Speaks Out On His Problem In Pro Baseball

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rich Allen, the controversial slugger of the Philadelphia Phillies, says his problem is that he never has learned to be a professional.

"I think in my heart I am a ball player, but I just haven't learned to be a professional, which is my real problem," Allen told sports telecaster Al Meltzer last night.

Allen, who has been dodging the news media since he was suspended indefinitely without pay for missing a doubleheader in New York June 24, sold his thoughts to WPHL, Channel 17 in a half hour dialogue.

He hinted in the interview that he might play baseball in Japan or South America, or go into another business.

Waterford Park Schedules Extra July 4th Races

CHESTER, W. Va. — Waterford Park kicks off the long Fourth of July weekend with a bang today when ten races will be presented at the West Virginia Oval.

On Friday, an 18-race holiday card is set and it will be followed by a dozen races Saturday. A fine field of sprinters are slated to clash in the featured Holiday Salute purse tomorrow night. The headliner will be run at six furlongs and carries a $1,401 purse.

Named for the dash are Mustard Pilot, Noble Band, Circle Eye, Star Player, Pagan Prince, Sayaslam and Miss Luke.

Overnight, the track handicapper gives the nod to Sayaslam and has listed that one as a probable 2-1 favorite.

Central Service Gets 4 Hits, But Beats Lawyers By 7-1

Central Service made the best of only four hits in downing Lawyers Wednesday night, 7-1 in a Colt League contest.

Steve Smith knocked in three of the Central runs and also pitched the entire seven innings to gain the mound victory.

Larry Brewer, Smith's batterymate, had the other two hits. All of Central's hits were singles.

Lawyers had to be satisfied with outhitting the Central team. The Lawyers managed five hits, and also scored first in the second inning.

In the bottom of that inning, however, Central scored two runs and was never headed.

Rick Sheppard, who had the only extra base hit of the contest, a double, took the loss for Lawyers.

League-Leading Toot Wins, 1-0

LISBON — Toot Trucking edged Quaker Security of Salem 1-0 Wednesday night in softball league play at the Pine Tree diamond on Salem Rd.

Herb Call of the Salem team, a new league entry succeeding Salem Emscon, got the lone hit off Toot's Sonny Thompson.

Don Kendrick scored the only tally on an infield hit by Jack Jackson. Jackson and teammate John Delfavero had two hits each. John Beverly was the losing pitcher.

Albco Foundry of Lisbon also joined the league this week, replacing East Palestine which never managed to field a team.

Toot leads the league with a 7-1 record, followed by Uncle Pete's of Wellsvile, 5-2; Wellsville Appliance, 4-4; Hamilton Drugs, 2-5; Quaker Security, 0-6, and Albco, no games.

Yarborough Shoots For Third Straight In 400

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With his sights set on a third straight victory in the Medal of Honor Firecracker 40 race Friday, favored Cale Yarborough is in for a hot ride in his 1969 Mercury.

The pole sitter, who set a world closed course record of 190,706 miles an hour in qualifying, will forego the comfort of a suit cooled by circulating ice water and thus save the added weight of the equipment.

To partly offset the intense heat from an asphalt track that will reach 150 degrees, the Wood brothers, who own the lone Mercury in the field of 40 fast late model stock cars, installed wall to wall insulation on the floorboard.

They also wrapped fiberglass and asbestos material around the oil reservoir behind the driver's seat.

"That oil reservoir puts out about 280 degrees," said Yarborough, "and it's just like having a heater in the car."

A crowd of 40,000 will be looking for another duel between Yarborough and the man with a similar name but no kinship, Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C.

Lee Roy was second to Cale in both the Daytona 500 and Firecracker 400 at the 2.5-mile Daytona Speedway in 1968.

They were battling again in the Daytona 500 last February until Cale smashed into the wall and Lee Roy emerged from the bridesmaid role.

The intensity of their rivalry increased at Jackson, Mich., in June when a last lap collision sent Lee Roy against the wall and Cale to the victory lane.

Yarbrough starts from ninth place, a broken part during qualifying slowing him to 182.090 m.p.h. But his Ford will be at least as fast as those of Donnie Allison, David Pearson and Richard Petty, who were right behind Yarbrough in qualifying.

The Dodge contingent, paced by Charlie Glotzbach's 186.559 m.p.h. for fifth place, will pin victory hopes on durability and racing luck ovtr the 40-mile distance.

Buddy Baker joined Glotzbach, Bobby Isaac, Paul Goldsmith, Bobby Allison and Dave Marcis as Dodge hopefuls when he led Wednesday qualifiers with a speed of 184.101 m.p.h. It earned him 11th place.

Joe Leonard, the only U.S. Auto Club driver in the field this year, was second best Wednesday at 181.320 in a Ford.

16-Year Phoenix Girl Top Attraction At Meet

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Freckle-faced Jan Glotzer, a 16-year-old from Phoenix, Ariz., tied one record and put on the day's top show Wednesday at the Women's and Girls' AAU track and Field Championships here.

The 5-foot-6, 113-pound athlete, who will be a high school senior this fall, cleared the 50-yard hurdles in 5.6 seconds in afternoon semifinal competition to tie the national AAU record.

Jan also was among 13 girls to make the finals in the high jump by clearing the bar at 5-feet, 3 inches.

Then she anchored the Phoenix Track Club's A team in the 440 relay. The Phoenix team was the top qualifier in that event with a 47.6 effort.

In other semifinal events, Ester Stroy of the Washington, D. C., Sports International Club was the top qualifier in the 440-yard dash with a time of 55.7; Janet Brown of the Texas Track Club was clocked with the best time of 10.6 in the 100-yard dash; Pam Greene of the Denver, Colo., All-Stars turned the 220-yard dash in 24.5 and Francie Larrieu of the San Jose, Calif., Cinder Gals toured the 880 in 2:10.0.

Only one record was cracked in Wednesday's morning competition when Sharlene Johnson, a 15-year-old from Philadelphia, set a new mark of 10.5 in the 100-yard dash. She runs for the Philadelphia Hawks.

Needs More Than 'Quick' Money

Black Capitalism needs more than just a quick shot of money to succeed. The following report from the Associated Press Special Assignment Team examines the roles of attitude, experiences and cultural background in a Small Business Administration minority business program in St. Louis.

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sometimes James A. Gates Sr. wishes Black Capitalism never had come along.

He could drop in at the lodge or take in a ball game in the days when he eked out a living as an "alley mechanic" working out of a dilapidated garage Now Gates doesn't have the time.

"The money made me more miserable than I was," said the round-faced Gates, 40, as he sat behind his desk in the bright and modern service station he operates in the St. Louis, Mo., ghetto.

"To be trruthful, if I got the $15,000 I asked for I could have gotten things going."

Gates got half that and is now 15 months behind in his payments to the lender, the Small Business Administration.

Gates feels hounded, harassed and misunderstood and is painfully aware that the wolf of liquidation bays at his door.

Gates is one of the thousands of Negroes trying with federal government help to crack through the barriers of custom and prejudice into the largely white world of small business.

In the fiscal year that ended Monday, the SBA upped its National minority loan total from 1,500 to more than 4,000.

Officials say a failure rate of 15 to 20 per cent should be anticipated. The failure rate for standard SBA loans is 2.9 per cent.

"We're shooting dice with a lot of these loans and we've got to do it," said Philip Pruitt, an assistant SBA administrator in Washington in charge of the minority program.

Locating in the ghetto is a gamble from the start. The beginning merchant depends for his sales on people at the bottom of the economic rung. Shudders in the economy affect the ghetto first. A mild recession can spell ruin for a merchant whose profits in a fledgling business can be marginal even in good times.

And riots can be as calamitous for the black storekeeper as for the white.

The beginning Negro businessman faces a cultural problem, too. Relatively rare is the Negro with a businessman in his family. The methods of the marketplace, which many whites absorb naturally while growing up, are often foreign to him.

To learn, he needs a teacher. Those who can teach are in short supply.

The Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) is the volunteer organization the SBA has traditionally used to help beginners. But virtually all SCORE's 3,200 members are white. Pruitt said many are afraid to visit the ghetto. The SCORE program is almost neutralized there as a result.

And if confidence breeds confidence, a lack of it can undermine the inexperienced man out to prove he can succeed.

"Attitudes in some of the agencies have got to be changed," said Pruiitt, himself a Negro. "We have to turn around the attitudes of some of the white regional directors and loan officers."

Another problem is personnel. The SBA is so short in specialists on minority loan problems that it can field minority teams in just 28 cities.

One of these is St. Louis, a city of 675,000 people. Almost 300,000 of them are Negroes.

"I have never been able to understand why there aren't more Negroes in business in St. Louis," said John P. Pfeffer, St. Louis regional director.

Pfeffer's office made 26 minority loans in fiscal 1968. Its goal for fiscal 1969 was 106. With a week to go in the fiscal year, its total stood at 42.

Pfeffer said he wants to see his office make more loans. But first, he said, there must be "some reasonable probability of success."

Pfeffer, 65, was a lawyer and real estate man before joining the SBA in 1961. He has the final word in St. Louis on whether a loan is approved or rejected, and if approved, for what amount. The amount can be as vexing a question as whether to risk the loan in the first place.

"In many cases, it's been true," said Pruitt, a former Wall Street investment banker.

Pfeffer said the complaint certainly isn't valid in the case of Gates, who maintained that the SBA put him in arrears from the start.

The problem is Gates' case, said Pfeffer was not so much money as attitude.

"How in the world would money have helped him?" asked Pfeffer. "Additional working capital, as he'd like to call it, would have gotten him nothing.

"We have never convinced Gates that operating a gas station is a long, arduous task."

Pfeffer said Gates spurned advice on housekeeping and allowed parking on station property despite the discouraging impact a small sea of cars had on would-be customers. Gates said the parkers were friends, who would be offended if chased away, and who patronized the station.

Pfeffer said the only thing that has worked with Gates is a get-tough policy. "He doesn't think you mean it unless you crack his skull or cut his throat or something. So we put the thing in liquidation and miraculously, the guy gave us a payment.

Milton V. (Buddy) Lonesome, a former newspaperman and disc jockey, said he referred 410 loan applicants to the SBA in the 2½ years he directed the St. Louis Small Business Development Corp.

The SBA approved 72 loans. The total should have been at least 300 higher, Lonesome insists—"The SBA has been something else, man."

"All he (Lonesome) does is cry," said Pfeffer. "He'll bring in a one-legged guy who wants to open a momma and poppa store on the corner where four other guys have gone broke . . . We can give him $5,000, watch him go broke and convince him and the community he can't make it."

"I brought him the people from the ghetto," said Lonesome. "He can give them any ridicuous name he wants.

"These are the people from the ghetto and this is the way they live. Good, grade A clients don't need help."

But, asked Pfeffer: "Aren't we doing greater damage if we put a guy in business and let him fall on his face than we would do if we didn't let him go into business in the first place?

Gates, the burly mechanic sat back behind his desk after leading visitors on a tour of his station, rich in the latest devices for tracking down engine trouble.

Gates was a long way from the old garage on North Garrison.

"I'll never, never go back," he said. "I'll stand on a corner and sell shoelaces before I go back."

Fire Bombings Bring Curfew

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Mayor Thomas J. Monaghan clamped an 11 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew on this eastern Pennsylvania city late Wednesday because of a series of fire bombings, he said. Ten persons were arrested overnight and charged with violating curfew restrictions.

Monaghan was expected to confer today with David M. Rineer, police chief, to decide whether to continue the curfew.

Police said it was imposed after five fire bombings of stores and scattered incidents of racial disruptions in a ghetto district, including rock and bottle-throwing. No injuries were reported.

City and state police moved into the troubled area shortly after midnight and ordered crowds of persons to disperse or face arrest. Most left the scene.

Piggy-Back Tax Draws 2 Suits

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — County piggy-back sales tax opponents mounted court battles as two suits were filed in Cuyahoga County and one in Lake County.

In Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, attorney Paul Mancino Jr. challenged the constitutionality of the new state law that permits county commissioners to enact the one-half per cent sales tax to be levied on top of the state's 4 per cent sales tax.

Former U.S. Rep. Robert E. Sweeney, a Democrat, filed a suit in U.S. District Court challenging the constitutionality of the referendum provision in the Ohio law which allows opponents of a county sales tax only 30 days after its enactment to get enough signatures to put the tax to a vote in the following election.

Cultured pearls are real pearls made by pearl oysters but they are brought about by introducing small foreign objects, such as sand grains, beneath the shell instead of waiting for nature to do so by accident.

New Zealand was the first country to allow women to vote, to provide old-age pensions and social security for everyone, and to compel management and workers to submit their disputes to arbitration.

There can be as many as five eclipses of the sun in one year. There must be at least two and the usual number is four.

Notice of Election on Tax Levy in Excess of the Ten Mill Limitation
Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Township Trustees of Madison Township, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 15th day of March, 1969, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Madison Township at a GENERAL ELECTION to be held in the Township of Madison, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 4th day of November, 1969, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of Madison Township for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for fire protection in said township.

Said tax being a renewal of an existing tax of six-tenths (.6) of one (1) mill at a rate not exceeding Six-tenths (.6) of One (1) mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Six Cents ($0.06) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for each of the tax years 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972 and 1973, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.
C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Rebecca Z. Resnick, Director
Dated May 31, 1969.

65 FARMS AND TRACTS

SEE FIRST

Farm—35 Acres

ONLY 20 minutes from town, ABOUT 9 miles out of Wellsville, on BLACKTOP road, just off Rt. 39. JUST the SPOT TO FARM, in your sparetime—RAISE a couple horses or some cattle or just have enough room to be off by yourself and have some privacy. You can raise crops as 25 ACRES ARE TILLABLE; there are TWO SPRINGS, if you want your own pond; there are 10 ACRES OF OAK AND LOCUST—this farm HAS IT ALL!! There's a BARN that you'll HAVE TO REPAIR, but the chicken coop, corn crib, utility shed and double garage are in GOOD SHAPE—just maybe a coat of paint. And the CISTERN (water for the stock) NEEDS A PUMP. Then there's a SWELL SIX ROOM FARMHOUSE which will be a BIG HIT with the wife—NEW BUILT-IN kitchen, MODERN bath, THREE BIG bedrooms, living room and dining room, NEW MAINTENANCE - FREE aluminum siding, gutters, downspouts and storm windows. COULD BE financed with about $3,000 down —PRICED AT $17,800.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, July 3, the 184th day of 1969. There are 181 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date:

In 1608, the French explorer, Samuel de Champlain, laid the foundations of the Canadian city of Quebec.

In 1890, Idaho became the 43rd state to enter the Union.

In 1950, U.S. and North Korean troops clashed for the first time in the Korean War.

One year ago: Gen. William C. Westmoreland became U.S. Army Chief of Staff.

Five years ago: Negroes in the South tested the new civil rights bill by eating in restaurants, swimming in pools and registering at hotels which previously had been segregated.

Junior Editors Quiz on TAXES

QUESTION: Who made it a law to pay taxes?

* * *

ANSWER: Taxation is the way governments get money to keep running. In the ancient days, however, few people had money; they used barter or trading systems. The first kings and governing rulers, needing supplies and workers to build cities, simply invaded neighboring kingdoms and seized all kinds of treasure. They also made slaves out of the conquered people. Instead of paying taxes, the enslaved peoples paid with their lives of forced labor. Later, in the feudal period (top picture), the vassals attached to a castle had to pay huge rents in farm produce to their feudal lords. They had little or barely enough for themselves. More reasonable taxation arrived with the coming of democratic societies such as those of England, France and America. Now, the taxpayer receives benefits from his government such as protection, schools, highways, etc. He knows that the benefits of modern government could not exist without his tax money. Most taxpayers are glad to pay it as long as they have a legitimate voice in their national and local governments.

(Margie Robertson of Pasco, Wash., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
